VOL. 27—NO. 8429. PORTLAND, OREGON, WEDNESDAY, MAY 18, 1887

FARMERS' AND MECHANICS' STORE.

ONE PRICE TO ALL!

For the past thirty days an army of carpenters, painters and decorators have been engaged in building and making extensive changes to our stores. The architect informs us that he will soon be ready to improve the front of our building, and as we intend to make important alterations in every department, we concluded, rather than [illegible] more goods, to give them to the public. We have in transit over 100 cases of Dry Goods. We have stored in Bickel's warehouse over 20 cases of Dress Goods. Each and every department is now choked with goods, and the conclusion that we have arrived at is, that on

MONDAY MORNING,

May 16, at 9 A. M.,

And until further notice, the price for every article and in every department has been CUT to such an extent that the departments will be clear in a very short time. In a great many good we have

O'BRIEN AT TORONTO.

The Warmest Reception he has Met in Canada.

HE SPEAKS IN THE OPEN AIR.

Blotous Orangemen, Encouraged by the Police, Try to Storm the Platform—The Speaker Interrupted by Fights

TORONTO May 1[illegible] —William O'Brien, editor of United Ireland, arrived this morning, amid a scene of enthusiasm and excitement unequaled since his entrance into Canada. Fully three thousand men crushed and struggled with each other to catch a glimpse of him. A few attempts at hooting and hissing were made as O'Brien entered his carriage, but were quickly drowned by the hearty, stirring cheer which went up as he stood up in his carriage and exclaimed: "Three cheers for our friends in England and the cause they are struggling for." A cavalcade of mounted police with drawn swords and a platoon of officers surrounded the carriage. The hotel was reached without a sign of hostility except an occasional hoot or hiss from an Orangeman.

At the hotel O'Brien was met by a committee which read him an address of welcome. In reply O'Brien [illegible] at [illegible] He alluded to Lansdowne's alleged cruelty to tenants and made an attack on the [illegible] Line. [illegible] were received with cheers mingled with hoots and hisses.

A[illegible] INCI[illegible]

The lessening [illegible] a few [illegible] and [illegible] the crowd increased and the [illegible] greater. The [illegible] rotunda of the hotels [illegible] To reach [illegible] was impossible to register was impossible, but O'Brien was hoisted on the shoulders of strong men and carried to the broad staircase and there amid intense excitement was presented with an address by D [illegible] Cahill, secretary of the local branch of the National League. During O'Brien's reply there were frequent attempts at interruption by several [illegible] crowd [illegible] but the overwhelming majority of the crowd were [illegible] and their cheers sounded like a chorus.

ORANGEMEN [illegible]

With Mr O'Brien's introduction began the most terrific groaning, hissing, cheering, and [illegible] the day had so far witnessed. [illegible] his hat with the utmost coolness O'Brien surveyed the vast sea of faces before him. He began amid the uproar to speak as follows:

Men of Toronto [God save the Queen. Hurrah for Gladstone, and immense cheering] That cheer of yours will ring around the world to-day. [Cheers and hisses.] And all the vocal talent of Lord Lansdowne's friends cannot drown it. We are used to this sort of thing in the British parliament. [Loud cheers and a voice: Hurrah for O'Brien. Tremendous cheers and groans.]

Here an Orangeman drew forth a heavy stick and hit a man with it, knocking him down. Then there was a rush caused by the prancing of the horses of the mounted policemen and the crowd scattered in all directions, many persons rushing for big heaps of bricks which were piled up in a hole close by. They came again, whether with bricks or not.

THE SPEAKER RESUMES.

Mr O'Brien continued: "I am glad to see that though Lansdowne has nothing to say himself he has friends who are able to say something. [Cheers and groans] We come to Canada to demand an answer to-day from either Lansdowne or his friends. Here are his friends—[groans and hisses]—two dozen of them [groans, cheers and cries of 'Brand O'Brien'] whom good policemen could knock out in a few minutes [cheers] if they only wanted to, and the only answer they can give for the high and mighty potentate who has sent them here is cackling like geese. [Loud laughter and cheers.] They attempt to shout down freedom of speech here to-day. [Groans and cheers.] We generally succeed in putting down our enemies in the house of commons [cheers] and we will succeed in putting them down here to-day. [Tremendous applause.] I don't blame the poor deluded Orangemen who are making this night to day."

Here a man was knocked down by a blow of a stick and a free fight followed among the Orangemen who again set up a dismal howling.

A LAW AND ORDER PARTY.

"To-day we are a party of law and order and we defy any party to deny it."

Several voices cried "Brand O'Brien." "The heart of Ireland is at your back," shouted another. "And the heart of Canada," shouted another. An Orangeman here got in front of the platform and began singing "The Boyne Water." His silk hat was crushed by those around him and he disappeared under the platform bruised and bloody, where he lay during the remainder of the day.

"I have often," continued Mr O'Brien, "met jackasses [laughter] whose sound would be more musical than that of the miserable and misguided wretches who came here to destroy that freedom of speech which they boast they love so much. [Derisive laughter.] If they have anything to say for Lansdowne let their best man come on this platform and I will guarantee him a hearing. But they are afraid [groans and hisses and cries of 'God save the Queen'] because they are in the wrong, and we are bold and defiant [and] we are right and truth and justice are on our side. [Loud and prolonged applause mingled with hisses and groaning.] This demonstration takes the last sod from under Lord Lansdowne's feet, for by it he confesses that he has no better answer to our arraignment than the blackguardism and vulgar ignorance of this wretched crew. [Cheers.] I am not at all sorry that the gentlemen of the Toronto corporation have broken their contract as Lord Lansdowne broke his and have refused the hospitality of St Andrew's hall. There is one hall, thank God, from which they cannot shut us out—this open vault of heaven which the architect of the universe has built—and we have a tale to tell which we may not be afraid or ashamed to tell in the free air of heaven and in the open light of day. One thing is now I think certain and that is that Canadians demand an answer to the specific and terrible accusations we have made against him. An answer there must be or Lord Lansdowne stands condemned. An answer different from the vague platitudes with which he fills his letter to Toronto. I think nobody realizes more keenly than Lord Lansdowne to-day that the frothy declarations of the authorities at Saturday's meeting are not an answer which will save him from the condemnation of liberty loving men."

THE VOICE OF PARLIAMENT.

Here the speaker said that Rev. [illegible] Kane had been allowed in Toronto to denounce home rule and added: "But I would like to point out that the declarations of Orangemen at Toronto did not prevail with the Canadian parliament. [Applause.] They were rejected and reversed by Canadian public opinion and so I venture to think that the orators of Saturday will fail now, as Rev Mr Kane failed then. Time will tell that the upshot of Saturday's meeting was a vote of confidence in the tory coercion government of Lord Salisbury, that government whose cruel and abominable coercion bill has just been condemned by the Canadian parliament by a decisive and overwhelming majority. A vote of confidence in Lord Salisbury. Could I possibly desire more convincing proof of how completely are our opponents out of sympathy with the vast masses of the Canadian people. As to the epithets that Goldwin Smith [has] been pleased to shower upon myself, well so far as my humble personality is concerned it is of small consequence in this matter. I am content to be judged by my own countrymen who know and read every thought of my heart. Judged by the announcement from Northeast Cork in this morning's cablegrams [applause] they don't seem to share Mr Goldwin Smith's opinion of me. I think we may safely leave the orators of Saturday's meeting to be crushed under the weight of their own adjectives and under the ridicule of their own organs. Upon another occasion I should be willing enough to enter into the defense of ourselves and our great movement if indeed defense is needed at this time of the day of the movement which has won the great heart and mind of Mr Gladstone and to which the energies of the whole liberal party in England are now pledged. [Loud applause.] But that is not the question. The question is: and Lord Lansdowne and his friends shall not be allowed to escape from it until they have answered it—is answer it they can—whether Lansdowne is carrying out a most cruel and inhuman system of evictions in Ireland rather than yield concessions which were suggested and recommended by arbitration authorized by his own agent, and until that question is honestly and squarely met Lord Lansdowne and his friends are shrewd enough now at the last moment to perceive that his cause will be simply damned by displays of physical and intellectual rowdyism." [Loud applause.]

ORANGEMEN NOT TO BLAME.

The speaker said he did not blame the Orangemen for their foolish threats, but he did blame the London Times and Daily Telegraph for their incitements to violence. "It is due to the Canadian spirit in favor of free speech that their bloody counsels had not been followed."

The speaker continued: "There was one thing thoroughly Hibernian about Saturday's meeting, and that was that although the meeting was called to insist that nobody had any right to pronounce upon the fitness of any governor general sent from England, the very first resolution they themselves passed was a most sweeping expression of their own opinion of Lord Lansdowne's fitness, thus doing the very same thing themselves which they insisted nobody in Canada had a right to do. [Laughter.] And Lord Lansdowne has written them letters in the newspapers to-day thanking them and declaring them quite right. [Laughter and applause.] If the gentlemen in Queen's park indorsed the coercion policy of Lord Salisbury, they are welcome to their opinion. If they think that Lansdowne is a rack renter, and has thereby additional fitness to be governor general we are [illegible] to differ with them [loud applause] and to declare that a man who tramples upon resolutions of their Canadian parliament with respect to Ireland is no longer fit to govern a nation of generous and freedom loving men."

ANOTHER RIOT.

This seemed to anger the Orangemen who knocked down one or two nationalists with blows from clubs. The nationalists in return used their fists very effectively. Police Inspector Archibald and Deputy Chief Stewart, who were in company with Gen Grossell, smiled in a most good natured way and used no effort to drive off the rowdies who pressed with might and main to reach the front of the platform, but in vain. With the exception of a couple of charges by a single policeman on horseback no attempt was made to interfere with the rioters. The Orangemen set up two stump speakers to talk at the same time as O'Brien. They roared themselves hoarse amid frantic cheers and yells of their coterie.

THE IRISH NUISANCE.

Toronto papers speak about the Irish nuisance. "God knows it pains us at heart to be obliged to worry you with the sorrows of our poor people and subject you to such a test of the sincerity of your sympathy with Ireland [illegible] us who have introduced the Irish nuisances to Canada. [Loud and prolonged applause.] The [illegible] at the plague spot. [illegible] 600 Irish emigrants [illegible] the [illegible] of [illegible] of the [illegible] are in [illegible] and [illegible] stand [illegible] [Loud cheers and [illegible] of hate.]

[illegible] an evicted tenant [illegible] spoke and [illegible] Lansdowne and the Orangemen in severe terms.

Mr O'Brien was then driven from the park [illegible]

At the close of the [illegible] the following resolution [illegible] groans of dissent from groups of Orangemen:

That this meeting of citizens of Toronto warmly sympathizes with the cause of Wm O'Brien, M P [illegible] Canada, [illegible] this opportunity to enter [illegible] protest against the [illegible] cruel treatment of the tenants at Luggacurran by Lord Lansdowne.

DISGRACEFUL ROWDYISM.

The Toronto Police Tacitly Encourage the Rioters

TORONTO May 1[illegible] —Never in the worst days of the Belfast disorders was a scene of more disgraceful rowdyism exhibited than that shown this afternoon in [illegible] park when a crowd of loyal Orangemen attempted to storm the platform, and failing in that to end all possibility of Mr O'Brien being heard by keeping up a constant din of groans and hissing and cries of "God save the Queen" and "Rule Britannia."

It was 4 o'clock when the crowd had about fully collected and it then seemed a fair estimate to set the number present at [illegible] 000, although people kept pouring in in such floods from all quarters after the meeting had begun that to say that there were 0,000 persons would not be an overestimate. Many of the banks were closed and students in the university were let loose. Many of these with crowds of desperate looking roughs whose only glory in life seemed to be a row or a riot were recognized in a compact band and excited little suspicion because they said never a word until their time came.

The first demonstration came from a solitary man at the left side of the platform who stood on the stump of a tree and began groaning at the meeting, and at those on the platform as though his life depended on the effort. Near him was a woman waving a green branch in her hand, and no sooner had she seen the obstreperous Orangeman than she ran the butt of the twig down his throat, which choked off the disturber amid a roar of applause. A rush was made for the woman, but she was in [illegible] friends and a surging wave of thousands drove back her would be assailants.

At this moment O'Brien arrived at the park in a carriage. One hundred and fifty policemen in charge of Lieut Col Grossell were scattered through the crowd or drawn up in files on the outskirts. Sergt Seymour was in charge of a squad of mounted men, and when the disturbers bent on breaking up the meeting determinedly took their place and remained there from the beginning of both O'Brien's and Kilbride's speech the policemen quietly folded their arms and said not a word.

The disturbers did not number more than sixty persons and many of them were armed with sticks. Two sycamore trees in front of the platform were taken possession of by a crowd of young roughs who hissed [illegible] into the speaker's face during the greater part of the time till after a few [illegible] the nationalists [illegible] hold of the trunks of the trees and shook the disturbers to the ground.

ENGLAND.

THE COERCION BILL IN THE COMMONS.

LONDON May 1[illegible] —The debate on the coercion bill was resumed this evening in the commons.

Sir Wm. Vernon Harcourt moved an amendment exempting from secret inquiry all proceedings relating to public meetings or agrarian movements in holding combinations for reduction of rent. The bill would then deal with actual crimes and would not be a measure creating an offense.

Dillon contended that unless the amendment was accepted the government would be able to imprison everybody who might be politically obnoxious. Landlords who had not received rents might swear out informations of conspiracy causing all sorts of persons to be brought up for bogus inquiry. If they refused to answer questions such persons might be imprisoned as long as the government chose. [Cries of "hear, hear."]

Gladstone said he regretted that the government failed to recognize the justice of granting the Irish tenant the same protection they accorded English workmen. As to boycotting, the government must explain what was meant by that term. Was intimidation meant or only boycotting—leading to exclusive dealing? [Hear, hear.] When Balfour said the government refused to yield to obstruction the opposition's response was that they had a right to refuse to yield to tyranny. [Cheers.]

The amendment was finally negatived—2[illegible] to 180.

Parnell will try to appear in the commons tomorrow afternoon. He has been advised not to attend the evening sittings.

RACING AT YORK.

LONDON May 17 —The spring meeting at York opened to-day. The Zealand stakes for two year olds, five furlongs and forty four yards, was won by Lord Durham's colt Brooklyn by nine lengths. C Perkins's filly Belle Mahone second. Mrs. T Falconer's filly Sister Agnes third. There were two lengths between second and third. Betting was five to two against Brooklyn and even money against Belle Mahone.

The Great Northern handicap, mile and three quarters, was won by P Crest's five year old horse Henney by four lengths. F Stevenson's five year old mare Nightcap second. Maj Stapleton's four year old filly Scotilla third. There were nine starters. Henney won by four lengths. Scotilla was a bad third. Betting stood five to four against Henney, nine to four against Nightcap and twelve to one against Scotilla.

A NOBLE MARRIAGE.

LONDON May 1[illegible] —Viscount Cranborne, son of Lord Salisbury, was married to-day to Lady Cicily Alice Gore, daughter of the Earl of Arran. The Prince and Princess of Wales, the Princess [illegible] Princess Christian, the Duke and Duchess of Teck and a large number of aristocrats witnessed the ceremony.

LONDON May 17 —Mr Barclay has refused Mr Wright's offer of £0,000 for the race horse Bendigo.

CANADA.

SENATOR SHERMAN ON RECIPROCITY.

TORONTO May 1[illegible] —The following extract from a letter to Erastus Wiman from Senator Sherman on full reciprocity between Canada and the United States appears in Canadian papers to-morrow:

No question of greater importance in foreign relations is now presented than this. As to the particular measure proposed by Butterworth or indeed to the extent which reciprocity should go and what articles should be admitted free of duty in the respective countries I do not feel justified now to express an opinion, for these must be a subject of negotiation and legislation between the two countries. It would be discreditable in the highest degree for two countries having so many interests in common and natural ties of friend[ship] and amity to have any irritation or controversy about their trade and interests with each other. Truly yours, JOHN SHERMAN.

GAMBLING IN SILVER BULLI[illegible]

Thirteen Thousand Men Idle—An Invitation to Gladstone—Ben Perley Poore Prostrated—Washington Notes, Etc.

A [illegible] GAMBLING SCHEME.

Wherei[illegible] Sell [illegible]

[illegible] A[illegible] [illegible] silver [illegible] certificates [illegible] the National [illegible] York [illegible] and [illegible] market [illegible] Their [illegible] silver [illegible] with the Western National Bank [illegible] where [illegible] certificates against the bullion so deposited [illegible] these certificates traded in very much as grain certificates are in Chicago or stock certificates are here.

To accomplish that, however, it is necessary to secure the co-operation of the governors of the stock exchange and secure the listing of the proposed silver certificates on the exchange. If that can be done and the plan carried out transactions in silver certificates will become as marked a feature of stock exchange business as trading in gold in the days of greenback depreciation.

A [illegible]

Conrad N Jordan, vice president of the bank, was asked to-day if such a scheme was on foot and said:

"Such a scheme is on foot, but not with us exclusively. There are a number of men getting this idea into shape, but it will not be ready to be made public for several weeks yet. The Western National Bank will not speculate in silver. We will issue certificates for silver or rather act as a registration organization, but we shall not do anything else, for we propose to do only a legitimate banking business. London now controls the silver market of the world. If this scheme goes forward, as it surely will, that controlling power will be in this city. Instead of our being dependent upon London for the price of silver, London will have to depend on us."

Jordan continued: "Organization of the scheme has so far progressed that the form of the certificate is now being discussed. I have been called an enemy of silver. I am not, but the silver dollar can never be a dollar. It is all bosh. I would have no dollars. Silver is not used enough. Every silver dollar coined shows the abuse of silver. I should only have halves, quarters and dimes each to weigh in proportion. If the government persists in the present ruinous policy there is no telling where things will end."

THIRTEEN THOUSAND MEN IDLE.

CHICAGO May 1[illegible] —The number of idle men in this city who have either struck or been locked out is rapidly increasing. It was variously estimated yesterday at from 10,000 to 20,000. The number probably does not exceed 13,000, but by the end of the present week it will be largely increased. Not more than 40 bricklayers are at work, and their occupation will be gone as soon as the stock of material on hand is exhausted. [illegible] ployes in other trades are gradually forced to stop work because they are reaching a point in construction at which they cannot proceed until bricklayers run up walls. The outlook is not promising for either contractor or laborer, but both appear to take a cheerful view of the situation and seem to be determined not to yield the point.

AN INVITATION TO GLADSTONE.

LINCOLN Neb, May 1[illegible] —The following message was sent to-day by President Fitzgerald of the Irish National League of America to Gladstone:

LINCOLN Neb May 1[illegible]

Rt Hon Wm Gladstone, House of Commons, London: Learning from cable dispatches that there is a possibility of your visiting America during the coming autumn, I as president of the Irish National League of America tender to you the cordial hospitality of that body, which will be the warm hearted greeting of fifteen million Irish Americans and such a greeting from the great freedom loving people of this land as has never been accorded to any visitor to these shores.

TROUBLE IN THE GRAPHIC OFFICE.

NEW YORK May 1[illegible] —The Graphic appeared yesterday without illustrations and with only four pages. It says editorially: "The members of the lithographic department received their pay last Saturday as usual. This morning they made out of pure spite and maliciousness a demand for a week's pay in advance before they would prepare the lithographic stones for to-day's issue. This was not acceded to, and being unable at such short notice to obtain men to take their places, the incomplete appearance of the paper is sufficiently explained."

TO SUBSTITUTE PAPER FOR COIN.

NEW YORK May 1[illegible] —A Washington correspondent of the Commercial Bulletin says: "The treasury department has decided to make persistent and determined efforts to substitute paper currency circulation for the present coin circulation of the Pacific slope and secure a return of [illegible] coin to the treasury as a means of strengthening its reserve to save loss from abrasion and further [illegible] a proper and more convenient currency."

SELECTING TEACHERS.

The School Board Hold Two Secret Sessions Yesterday.

How the Capability of Applicants is Inquired into and their Past Record Investigated; the Principals as Witnesses.

At the last meeting of the Board of School Directors the time for holding the annual election of principals and teachers of the public schools of Portland was fixed for May 20. This date is earlier than these elections are usually held, but that time was designated for the reason that Mr. D. P. Thompson, one of the members of the board, expects to leave next week for an extended trip through Europe. It was desirable to elect the teachers before his departure, and so next Friday was fixed as the date. Subsequently Mr. Wm. M. Ladd, another member of the board, was appointed by Mr. Donald Macleay, president of the board of trade, one of the three persons who are to visit Cœur d'Alene mines. As Mr. Ladd is to leave with the other two members of the committee—Messrs. Phillip C. Schuyler and Wm. Kapus—in a few days, and cannot return in time to attend the annual meeting, the board of school directors finally concluded to hold the election Monday and Tuesday of the present week in order to accommodate all.

There are ninety persons to be elected to positions in the public schools, and as the task of selecting so large a number is no small and insignificant one, it was determined at the last meeting to take two days in which to accomplish the work. This would afford the board ample time in which to institute a thorough and impartial examination into the qualifications of all applicants, and to make judicious selections. As nearly all the present corps of teachers are candidates for re-election, the board have adopted a rule by which the question of fitness, compatability, adaptation, qualifications, etc., of each applicant could be put to a somewhat crucial, but, at the same time, fair and just test. To accomplish this work, the board commenced its labors yesterday afternoon at 3 30 o'clock. The process was rather of an inquisitorial character. The members of the board resolved themselves into a sort of star chamber and proceeded to examine each principal separately. A list of the applicants, both those seeking re-election and new candidates, was called off and the principal interrogated pointedly as to the matter of qualification. As near as could be learned the questions were substantially plied in the following manner:

Do you think this person is qualified?

Do you think he or she ought to be chosen as a teacher?

How would you like to have this person selected for another year?

What is your personal opinion of this applicant, etc.

Under this rigid cross-examination the principal was required to give a direct reply, and to express freely an opinion. If objections were made by the principal to any applicant or applicants such principal was required to offer some good and valid reason for the same.

Director Dodd remarked to a reporter yesterday afternoon that it was a sort of inquisition he admitted, then he added: "But you know it is the best way to proceed. We cannot handle the matter with gloves. The board's purpose is to select the very best and most competent teachers. We want to get right down and thoroughly and impartially sift the matter to the bottom. We have a record or report of the year of every teacher in the public schools. If there have been errors, and faults, and inefficient work, we wish to know it; it is our duty to know it. By the plan we have adopted we can get at this matter properly. We can get the unbiased opinion and unprejudiced judgment of the teachers one as to the other. Every objection made must be supported by facts and reasons; and no opposition will have any weight with the members of the board which is unsupported, except by mere personal assertions. In this way," said Mr. Dodd, "the board can deal justly with all, and at the same time act for the best interests of the schools. An opportunity will be afforded any teacher to explain any charges of carelessness, error, omission, etc. Our purpose is to deal fairly with all, condemn no one without proper hearing and investigation, and at the same time secure the best teachers. It is for this purpose that we intend to go into the star chamber business on a small scale," said Mr. Dodd, smiling. "Of course no one will be admitted except the person whose opinion and views are sought for."

These reports of the principals were received yesterday afternoon at the meeting and, it is supposed, were duly considered and acted upon. As the "gentlemen reporters" were not admitted nothing very definite can be written on the subject. Last evening at 8 o'clock the board held an adjourned meeting, which, like its predecessor, was strictly of a star chamber character. No one was permitted to be present except the board of directors. At a late hour last evening a reporter called at the High school building and had a brief interview with one of the directors out in the hallway at that hour—midnight—the board was proceeding slowly with the election of teachers. The board adjourned at a late hour without completing the list. To-day and this evening the educational corps will probably be completed.

"OUR P·RTY."

Dr. Child, on his previous excursions, has taken his people over the Rock Island railway from St. Paul to Chicago. He would do so this time if he had any. If his people had their choice of routes they would save 125 miles of travel and eight hours' time by taking the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway. This, on the end of four days' travel, counts. Our relations with the Union Pacific railway from Omaha to Chicago are identical with our Northern Pacific connection. All tickets, Ash-street wharf.

AID FOR NANAIMO.

THE LIST INCREASED $132 YESTERDAY—ALBINA CONTRIBUTES $66 50.

When the committee appointed by the board of trade to solicit funds for the widows and orphans of Nanaimo made their rounds last week it happened that quite a number of gentlemen were not in their places of business, and as the committee could not go over the ground twice, these were skipped. Several gentlemen, since the committee reported, have called on Mr. E. D. McKee, chairman of the committee, and left donations, expressing regret that they had been skipped by the canvassers. If others desire to subscribe Mr. McKee will be glad to hear from them to-day. The following contributions were handed in yesterday:

Rev. T. L. Eliot	$ 5 00
Dr. K. A. J. Mackenzie	20 00
Dr. F. B. Eaton	5 00
Dr. A. D. Bevan	5 00
Calvary Presbyterian church	31 50

A PORTLANDER IN LUCK.

WM. CURRIER SELLS AN OLD PIECE OF MINING PROPERTY FOR $113,000.

About ten years ago Wm. Currier, together with several others, interested himself in a mine in Humboldt county, Nevada. The mine, although said to be a good one, did not pay those who invested in it anything, numerous assessments instead of dividends being declared. Mr. Currier however, stuck to it, and as his associates dropped out he bid in their stock and kept doing this until he became the principal stockholder in the mine. But Mr. Currier has struck a bonanza as the following taken from yesterday's Evening Telegram will show:

Some months since the Anglo-Californian bank of San Francisco, introduced to Mr. Currier the representative of a wealthy London syndicate sent to this coast to invest in mineral lands. In company with Mr. Currier he visited Humboldt county, and after a thorough inspection of the property the London agent offered $150,000 for it. Mr. Currier accepted the proposal, a bond was perfected, and the cash is to be paid some time next August. Mr. Currier's share of the sale will amount, in round figures, to $113,000.

To a representative of the Telegram Mr. Currier stated he is confident that the property is worth more than he is to receive for it, as millions may be taken out of it, but he is getting along in years, and at his age doesn't care to be saddled with the care and worry attendant upon developing mines.

While the mine was in process of development a block of 7000 shares of the stock became delinquent on a five cent assessment, and Mr. Currier wishing one of his friends to make a raise out of it, advised him to take it in. The friend did so, but when the second assessment of ten cents per share was levied, a short time before the sale, Mr. Currier's friend did not respond and the former took in the stock. No sooner did the ex-holder of the 7000 shares hear that the property had been sold for $150,000 than he became anxious to "come to time," but it was too late. Mr. Currier advised him to pay the assessment ere it became delinquent, but he would no more of it; but the moment he heard of the appreciation in value of his property, he wanted a finger in the pie.

RUNAWAY.

A FARMER SERIOUSLY INJURED BY BEING DRAGGED THROUGH THE STREETS.

About 10 o'clock yesterday morning William Hellenan, a farmer living near Oswego, came near losing his life in the vicinity of the Hood street bridge. He was driving a pair of lively young colts to the city and they became unmanageable. The harder the farmer pulled on the reins the more difficult it became for him to control the animals, and eventually he was pulled from his seat in the wagon. The colts then took to their heels and madly dashed toward the northern part of this city. Mr. Hellenan was dragged a considerable distance, and when picked up by Mr. G. W. Foss, the livery stable keeper, he was unconscious. Mr. Foss took the inanimate form into his buggy and conveyed it to Dr. Giltner's office. Restoratives were applied to the man and his numerous wounds dressed. He had a gash three inches long on the top of his head; his throat was slashed almost from ear to ear, which was probably done by being caught in the trace hooks; his chin was cut open, as well as one of his hands fearfully lacerated; besides that his right shoulder was dislocated, and in fact there is scarcely a spot about the unfortunate man that is not more or less hurt.

With him there were two lads in the wagon, one aged about 19 years and the other 9 years, both of whom were thrown out in the road, but escaped without a scratch. The wagon was broken into smithereens. How the man escaped instant death is a miracle. However, some of his injuries are very serious.

A BIG COMMISSION SUIT.

THE CASE OF J. H. FISK AGAINST D. V. B. HENARIE TO BE TRIED OVER AGAIN.

A mandate has been received in state circuit court department number one from the supreme court in the case of J. H. Fisk vs. D. V. B. Henarie. Fisk sued Henarie in the state circuit court for $60,000 commission for finding a purchaser for The Dalles military wagon road land grant. The case was tried before Judge Smith and a jury and resulted in a verdict in favor of Fisk for the full amount.

Three motions were then submitted to the court, one for judgment on the verdict, one for judgment notwithstanding the verdict and a new trial. Judge Smith sustained the motion for judgment notwithstanding the verdict and rendered judjment for the defendant. Fisk then appealed to the supreme court and the supreme court sent the case back to the state circuit court for further hearing.

Judge Shattuck, who had assumed the bench, heard and allowed the motion for a new trial. This was appealed to the supreme court. The mandate received and entered yesterday dismisses the appeal, thus sustaining Judge Shattuck. The case will consequently be tried over again.

GRAND ENCAMPMENT I. O. O. F.

MEETING LAST NIGHT IN EAST PORTLAND—NEW OFFICERS ELECTED.

The grand encampment of the I. O. O. F. of Oregon met last night at Armory hall, East Portland, D. E. Buchanan, grand patriarch, presiding. Reports of officers were read and approved and the usual routine business transacted.

An election of officers resulted as follows: Grand patriarch, R. M. Day; grand high priest, Timothy Ford; G. S. W., A. A. Gambell; grand scribe, J. M. Bacon; grand treasurer, J. G. Wright; grand representative, Phil Metchan; grand junior warden, R. Alexander. An adjournmant was then taken until half-past 7 o'clock this evening.

FOR SPRINKLING THE WHITE HOUSE ROAD.

THE HAT TO BE PASSED TO-DAY FOR MONEY TO MEET THE EXPENSE.

Sunday's OREGONIAN contains an article on the subject of the desirability and necessity of Portland having a suitable drive; also what the members of the Multnomah Driving Park Association proposed doing in the way of placing the old macadam road in good condition, providing the citizens gave any substantial aid and encouragement. It is well known that the county authorities have been quite liberal in the expenditure of money in making needed repairs to the White House road. Since the organization of the association some more repairs have been made, and now the road is said to be in very good condition for travel. During the dry season the road becomes very dusty, and the winds which prevail blow great clouds to and fro, and leave the old macadam clear. To prevent this and to render travel along the road at all tolerable, it is necessary to keep the dust well laid by sprinkling.

Reference was made in the article to the effort which was made at the last meeting of the water committee to secure the privilege of securing a supply of water to be used for that purpose. Nothing definite was determined upon, but some understanding will be arrived at probably at the next meeting of the committee. Very likely the driving association will be furnished water at cost price or at a small advance. This matter has been under consideration by the members of the association, and it is the purpose of the members of that organization to maintain a first-class drive. Already the association has expended considerable money in carrying forward their original purpose. It is now proposed to call on the citizens for some assistance, to enable the project to be carried to a successful consummation. Several gentlemen have been selected by the association to wait upon the citizens and solicit funds with which to defray the expenses of keeping the White House road well sprinkled during the coming season. Water can no doubt be obtained cheaply, and the association will secure sprinkling carts. All the association asks is that the citizens will assist in paying for the water. To-day the following persons will commence soliciting for contributions: H. C. Leonard, Arthur Wilson, W. B. King, P. J. Mann, E. S. Rothchild, and T. J. Colbert. The committee wish it understood that every person who contributes to the "water fund," becomes a member of the association. Thus it will be seen that this is a matter in which the public is interested. The road is free to all. Without being kept sprinkled it can not be traveled with pleasure and comfort, and now every tax payer and every person who expects to drive out to the White House is expected to contribute something.

TERRITORIAL PYTHIANS.

GRAND LODGE AT VANCOUVER TO-DAY—PORTLAND KNIGHTS TO JOIN IN A DEMONSTRATION.

This evening at 7 o'clock the fourth convention of the grand lodge of Washington, Knights of Pythias, will open its session in Vancouver.

Preceding formal opening of the session a reception will be tendered members of the grand lodge by Vancouver lodge No. 6, K. of P. In this demonstration Willamette division No. 2, uniform rank, of Portland, will be in attendance and participate, and also Astoria division No. 1, uniform rank, be represented. Willamette division has chartered a steamer, which will convey all knights and visitors who may desire to go from Portland to Vancouver. The members will meet at the hall in this city at 12 M. and proceed to the boat at 1 P. M. The division has engaged the Sterling band, and will march through several of the principal streets in passing to the steamer. Arrangements have been made by which the grand lodge officers and delegates will arrive at Vancouver by the same steamer which will leave here with Willamette division.

At 1 o'clock the boat will leave Portland for Vancouver, and upon the arrival there will be met by the home lodge and escorted to the City park.

The formation of the line will be as follows:

Fourteenth U. S. Infantry Band.
The Home Lodge.
Visiting Knights.
Delegates.
Uniform Division.
Grand Lodge Officers.
Reception by the Mayor of the City, Hon. J. Randolph Smith, and Address of Welcome by Governor Semple.
Dress Parade by the Military at the Garrison (through the kindness of Col. Thomas M. Anderson, Commanding) at 5 P. M.

The session of the grand lodge will open at 7 P. M., and a grand ball will be held at the Standard theater, commencing at 9:30 o'clock.

THAT FURNITURE TRANSACTION.

ALL THE CRIMINAL CHARGES DISMISSED AND AN ATTACHMENT SUIT BEGUN.

Yesterday afternoon justice Tuttle passed on the cases of J. Holcberg, D. and S. Freidman and M. Brilliant, the furniture dealers, who sold W. H. Warren $221 worth of furniture. Warren, after buying and paying for the furniture, had to get out a search warrant to obtain possession of it. This proceeding had to be had on account of a partnership row between Brilliant and the Freidmans. A general squabble followed, resulting in the bringing of criminal actions by each of the parties against the other.

Justice Tuttle yesterday dismissed all these criminal actions, but held that the dismissal did not bar Warren from instituting civil proceedings for the recovery of furniture, which was ordered returned to the Freidman et al. Warren immediately brought suit in the justice court of East Portland, and as the Freidman's were about to take the furniture in accordance with justice Tuttle's decree, prevented them from so doing on an attachment writ.

The case will have to be fought all over again, as neither side will give up. How a man can purchase, pay and get a receipt for certain goods and then have to fight for possession of them through court is a conundrum, as before stated, as hard to solve as the prison cell puzzle.

ADVENTISTS' CAMPMEETING.

DAILY PROGRAMME OF EXERCISES AT THE PAVILION THIS WEEK.

The annual campmeeting of the Seventh Day Adventists of the North Pacific conference will be held this year at East Portland, Or., May 18, 24, on the same ground occupied last season, between Fifth, Seventh, R and S streets.

Daily service as follows: Devotional meeting at 6:30 A. M. Preaching at 10:30 A. M., 2:30 P. M. and 7:30 P. M. Meetings for either business or social worship at 9 A. M. and 5 P. M. Sabbath school, May 21, at 9 A. M.

Elders E. W. Farnsworth of Michigan and R. A. Underwood of Ohio will be present and conduct the services of the occasion, which will be held in a commodious, well arranged pavilion. Comfortable quarters at reasonable rates can be obtained by all who wish to remain in the camp.

A cordial invitation is extended to the public to attend the meetings. Admission free.

THE STAGE.

THE NEW MARKET.—Mr. Lewis Morrison and his excellent company returns to the New Market on Friday evening for a season of three nights and Saturday matinee. On Friday evening and at the matinee Saturday he will present "Won at Last," a play by Steve Mackeye, the author of "Hazel Kirke," and on Saturday evening a farewell performance of "Faust" will be given. The great success of this play during Mr. Morrison's recent visit warrants a packed house next Saturday evening. The sale of seats will commence at Prentice's on Wednesday.

COMING ATTRACTIONS.—Commencing May 30, we are to have M'lle Rhea, the great French actress, at the New Market for one week in emotional drama and comedy. Says the Montreal Herald: "The performance was a magnificent one, in every respect worthy of the genius of so grand an artiste as M'lle Rhea. Since poor Neilson spoke the words, 'Tarry a little; I will come again,' we have waited for one to fill her place. On M'lle Rhea the mantle of Neilson must rest. None of her compeers, so far as we have seen, approach her in so true a conception of the role. Mr. John Ryder, her teacher, may well feel proud, for he it is who trained up the two greatest 'Juliets' of this century. Neilson is dead; Rhea lives to keep green her memory. M'lle Rhea last night bore so striking a resemblance to Neilson that we almost imagined the dead actress had come back to this world again." For a week, commencing June 6, we are to have Frederick Warde, the tragedian, and the following week Baird's minstrels. As usual, it is feast or a famine.

Soothes and Heals.

The combination of Abietine Balsam and Mountain Balm in Santa Abie soothes and heals the membrane of the Lungs, inflamed and poisoned by disease. It prevents night sweats and tightness across the Chest, cures Coughs, Croup, Asthma, Phthisic, Pneumonia, Hoarseness, Loss of Voice and allied complaints. Use as directed, if the effect desired is not produced money will be refunded by all druggists.

DIVING APPARATUS.—T. K. Johnson has received from the east the latest improved submarine armor, and is ready for services at short notice. Address Skamokawa P. O., W. T., or telegraph Clifton, Oregon.

EAST PORTLAND.

Regular Meeting of the City Council Last Night.

McAyeal's Alleged Inability to Serve, Under Discussion—Bids for Fourth Ward Engine House—Attempted Assassination.

Council was called to order by Mayor Rafferty and quorum found present. Minutes of the previous meeting read and approved.

PETITIONS.

From C. M. Forbes and Frank Bode, sureties of A. B. Johnson, who assigned the contract for lighting the city to M. C. Coward, but which was abandoned by the said Coward, representing that they have fulfilled said contract since such abandonment and ask that payment for the services rendered be made; adopted, and it was ordered that the payment be made when the sureties place the required indemnity on file.

From James Lyons, asking an extension of time for the improvement of Twelfth street. Granted sixty days.

COMMITTEE REPORTS.

From committee on fire and water, reporting that they advertised for bids for engine house in the Fourth ward, and received the following, which includes finishing the building: J. S. Tooms $1275, E. B. Farsworth $1174, Sewell & McDonald $1698, W. McFarland $1250, C. O. Blakely $1468, Fadden & Mays $1330. The committee recommend that the contract be awarded E. D. Farsworth, being the lowest bidder; and that $1000 be paid in warrants on the general fund of 1887, and $174 in warrants on the general fund of 1888. Report adopted and committee authorized to make contract with Mr. Farnsworth.

From committee on ways and means, recommending the adoption of the ordinance authorizing the issue of $5000 in bonds to pay the judgment of North Pacific Lumbering Company. Adopted.

From committee on accounts and current expenses, recommending payment of bills presented at the last meeting. Adopted and the recorder ordered to draw warrants for the several amounts.

From committee on streets and public property, recommending the adoption of ordinance in relation to the city wards; adopted.

From committee on streets and public property, recommending passage of the ordinance changing certain grades in East Portland; adopted, and recorder ordered to give notice of such change.

OFFICERS' REPORTS.

From the city surveyor, recommending the establishment of certain grades in Irving's addition on Third, Broadway and Clay streets; adopted, and recorder ordered to give proper notice.

From the auditor and clerk, A. J. Newell, submitting his report for the quarter commencing February 1 and ending April 30, 1887; referred to committee on ways and means.

Officer McMillan's report, showing that out of $3449 21 delinquent taxes turned over to him he had collected $3324 11, leaving uncollected $125 10. Of this amount $75 65 is collectable, and there remains $51 attributable to errors.

COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE.

Council went into committee of the whole to discuss the McAyeal case. It was stated that Judge Bellinger had said that McAyeal was a de facto member of the council, and that all matters voted on by him was legal and binding up to the present time, but future acts, after it was shown that McAyeal is not a legal member of the council, would not be valid. City attorney seemed to think McAyeal is a legal member of the council. A great deal of discussion arose, and finally it was moved and carried that the committee of the whole recommend that McAyeal be allowed to resign from the council. The committee then rose and reported their recommendation to the council, which was accepted. So Mr. McAyeal can resign, if he chooses to do so.

CLAIMS AGAINST THE CITY.

Following claims were presented and referred to the committee on current expenses and accounts:

S B Johnson	$90 00	T Parrott	5 00
Peaslee Bros	13 25	E Portland Packet	14 00
W M Church, Jr,		Frank Roe	2 00
Clerk	1 25	C Barger	2 00
Fred Bailey	3 00	Chas Morgan	2 00
S B Johnson	90 00	Jas B Lyons	4 75
T M Hurlburt	15 00	Niedermark	3 00

ORDINANCES.

To provide for the payment of a judgment obtained by the North Pacific Lumbering Company, by issuing ten bonds in the sum of $500 each. The ordinance authorizes the committee on ways and means to advertise and sell the bonds; referred to committee on ways and means.

To establish the boundaries of the city wards; passed.

Declaring the probable cost of improving Fifth street from the north line of O street to a point 100 feet north of the north line of M street; referred to committee on streets and public property.

Changing the grades of certain streets in the city; passed.

Changing salaries of certain city officers, as follows: Recorder, $90; marshal, $90, and street commissioner, $70 per month; referred to committee on ways and means.

Making an appropriation for the improvement of Fifth street; referred to committee on streets and public property.

REMONSTRANCES.

Property holders on U street protest against the improvement of U street from Water to Twelfth; received and placed on file.

Hon. C. L. Spore and others, protesting against the improvement of Sixth street; same action.

MISCELLANEOUS.

A proposition to furnish the city with fire hose was received from the Gutta Percha Company, of Portland; Mr. Fairchild, representative of that company, made a statement; no action.

West moved that the recorder be instructed to give notice for the improvement of Fourth street from L to M; carried.

It was moved and carried that the recorder, city attorney and street commissioner prosecute all parties for leaving any kind of obstructions in any improved street in the city after one week's notice to remove the same.

On motion the council adjourned to meet one week hence, Monday, May 23.

NEWS NOTES.

J. M. Sturm, now of Walla Walla, is in the city on business.

A full brass band will accompany the excursion to Oak island next Saturday.

A three-acre tract of land was sold yesterday to a gentleman from Topeka, Kansas. The price paid was $2100.

Mr. Clements, of the real estate firm of Cook & Clements, Tacoma, was in East Portland yesterday making examinations of the city and ascertaining prices of property.

An alarm of fire called out the department last evening at 7:30. It seems that an incipient blaze in an old building on the corner of Water and J streets was discovered, but was quickly put out.

But few bricklayers remain about the terminal buildings. The work now remaining is only finishing of ends of walls and odd jobs, but an increased force of carpenters make the place appear lively yet.

The special school tax of district No. 49, Multnomah county, for '87, is now due and will be received at the office of the clerk, Mrs. E. L. Crozier, at Hindman's store, Holladay avenue, on Saturday of each week from 1 to 5 P. M., and on intervening days at her residence, in Irving's addition.

The dry dock at Albina is to be finished, but work on the same cannot be commenced for at least three months. After the regular freshet has come and gone and the water has reached a lower stage the dock will be pumped and completed. It will not take more than six weeks to place it in condition for business.

Rev. W. A. Wilson and family have been transferred from the Missouri, M. E. conference to this state. They arrived here on the 14th, and have located at Sellwood. Mr. Wilson will preach his first sermon in the Sellwood M. E. church next Sunday. He is said to be a man of ability. The church will henceforth have regular services.

Last Sunday morning a collection for the Nanaimo sufferers was taken up by the children of St. David's Sunday school, which amounted to $13. The children were glad of the opportunity of doing what they could to aid those who stand in so much need of assistance, and at the same time they are learning that it is "more blessed to give than to receive."

Yesterday Stott's hall, on J and Fourth street, was thoroughly renovated and put in condition for the grand encampment and lodge. Carpets, desks, etc., and everything needful, were placed in the hall. A representative to the grand lodge was heard to say that the hall is the best in the state. The grand encampment met last night, and this morning at 10 A. M. that august body, the grand lodge, will begin its session.

ATTEMPTED ASSASSINATION.

Mention was made a few days ago that a man had been shot at near Pleasant Home. The man shot at was Mr. Mibar, and his son, who was in the city yesterday, gave most of the particulars. Mr. Mibar was out a short distance from the house chopping wood, and while so doing a shot was fired and a bullet went within about half an inch of his head. He glanced up and saw where the shot came from, and also saw a man with a rifle in his hand. Two of Mr. Mibar's sons and several men attempted to surround and capture the man, but failed to do so. Strong suspicion rests upon a certain individual, and the evidence, though circumstantial, seems very strong. Mr. Mibar has had a dispute with this same party about some land and the dispute has been very bitter. The young man who was in the city yesterday, stated that a warrant had been issued for the arrest of the party upon whom the suspicion rests. So the matter will then come before the court.

NOTES FROM FOREST GROVE.

FOREST GROVE, May 16.

Fields of rye are already in full head.

Three Chinese pheasants were seen near Greenville recently.

Prof. W. D. Lyman returned from California Saturday last, after a ten days' absence.

W. D. Hoxter expects to start East about the 1st of June with another shipment of horses.

Shooting wild pigeons has been the popular pastime among the boys for a week or two past.

The grain in this section looks well. Most of the land will be planted, notwithstanding the late heavy rains.

The shingle mill of Frank Liddell is now in operation. The factory is located on Gale's creek, near Lida's mill.

Mrs M. S. Hoxter leaves to-day for The Dalles to attend the State W. C. T. U., which convenes in that city to-morrow.

The new mill just erected by I. L. Smith & Sons on Gale's creek made a trial run on Friday, turning out a thousand feet in good style.

Mr. G. W. Coplen left last week for Cœur d'Alene, where he has mining interests. His health demanded a change, his position as druggist keeping him too closely confined.

Dr. Ward has a professional gardener employed and is having his grounds spaded, which, after smoothing and leveling, will be set with various kinds of plants and ornamental shrubbery.

Pacific University's commencement is near at hand, and she is getting ready for it. Among many changes that are being made, that of ornamenting the campus is of interest. Landscape gardeners are busy making walks, removing shrubs, and planting others, in short, they are rendering more attractive what is by nature as pretty a spot as the sun ever shone upon.

The game of base ball that was advertised to be played last Saturday, between the Forest Grove club and a nine from the Bishop Scott grammar school, did not take place, on account of the grammar school nine failing to show up. The home nine appeared at the appointed hour upon the grounds in full uniform, and claimed the game by a score of 9 to 0. On Friday the boys here were notified by letter from Portland that everything was lovely and the game would be played. Saturday morning a second letter was received from the grammar school boys, stating that their "pitcher couldn't come, and besides, three of their nine were sick," and so begged to be excused. The Grove boys didn't accept the excuse, but claimed the game, as above stated.

PARTY AT OLYMPIA.

OLYMPIA, W. T., May 15, 1887.

Last Friday evening Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Phillips gave a delightful dancing party at their handsome residence on Main street. The entire first floor was thrown open for dancing purposes, and the spacious parlors were beautifully decorated with flowers, which added much to the beauty of the rooms. At 9 o'clock dancing began to the music furnished by Messrs. Roberts and Mills, and at 11:30 refreshments were served, after which dancing was resumed and continued until 2 A. M. In the upper rooms card parties enjoyed themselves fully as much as the dancers beneath. Among those present were:

Judge and Mrs. Hoyt, Mr. and Mrs. B. G. O'Brien, Dr. and Mrs. Carlyon, Mr. and Mrs. T. N. Ford, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Engle, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. McElroy, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Gowey, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Townsend, Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Percival, Mrs. Breckenridge, Mrs. Jordan, Mrs. G. H. Parker, Miss McFadden, Miss Grainger, Miss Jennie Young, Miss Cowles, Miss McKenny, Miss Ellis, Miss Cavanaugh, Miss Newell, Miss Freeman, Miss Moore, Miss Tarbell, Miss Browner, Miss Hayden, Miss Brehm, Miss Cora Ellis; Messrs. M. Harris, Charles Ayer, M. O. Root, A. B. Brown, Geo. Williams, James Hayden, W. J. Foster, H. Cowles, Bates Cavanaugh, T. M. Reed Jr., Geo. Mills, J. W. Gregory, Harry Barkley.

CENTRALIA MATTERS.

CENTRALIA, May 16.

Another accident happened at the shingle mill here last Saturday. One of the saws burst and flew into many pieces, and miraculously missed hitting any of the hands, who were all busy at the time. This has caused a temporary stoppage in the mill.

Business is reviving, and the general stagnation in trade seems about at an end. During the past winter there have been a good many vacant houses; now these are mostly all occupied. Strangers are coming in very rapidly; many of them are well pleased with this section of the territory, and are taking up land and building good comfortable houses.

This is a pushing little town, and is not a great way behind the present age; good sidewalks are being laid all through the town, and several new streets are being laid open near the public square. We have a good race track a half mile from Centralia. All we need is some one with means at his command to come in and open it up. We can also boast of a brass band which can not be equaled in Lewis county. All our hotels are full. The "Centralia" is the favorite resort of the local traveling public; we can not and need not speak too highly of it; those who once seek a rest under its friendly roof will always return.

GLASS MANUFACTURE.

The recent advance in freight on importations of all kinds naturally gives rise to the question of home manufacture. And the earlier we are compelled to adjust ourselves to these circumstances and provide for the home consumption and then for exportation, the earlier will the city enter upon a line of prosperity which can now only be comprehended by persons who have experienced like developments elsewhere. The question now before us pertains to the manufacture of certain varieties of glassware, which can be made equally as good and as cheaply here in the city of Portland as is done in Chicago and many small towns in the eastern states. But glass cannot be manufactured without sand, and of a quality peculiarly adapted to this work. The object, therefore, of this article is at present one of inquiry, and is addressed to every reader of THE OREGONIAN who knows something about sand suitable for the manufacture of glass and which can be obtained within 100 miles of Portland. Communication and samples may be addressed to W. T. Shanahan, 69 Morrison street, Portland, Oregon.

PECULIAR CHARGE OF TRESPASS.

Justice Bushwiler was engaged all of yesterday afternoon in hearing the case of A. Graf, charged by Hans Hanson with trespass. Both of the parties live at Rooster Rock, Graf for the last seven or eight years and Hanson but for a year past. Graf has 160 acres of land, and when he took it up he built a fence around it. Hanson a year ago bought forty acres adjoining Graf's place, and recently he claimed Graf's fence was on his land, and to determine whether it was or not had the county surveyor survey the line between the two properties, when it was decided that Graf's fence was two feet on Hanson's land. Graf then moved the fence more than three feet over the line on to his own land.

Hanson claims Graf trespassed on his (Hanson's) land by going on it to take down the fence, and for this caused his arrest. Justice Bushwiler, after hearing the evidence, acquitted Graf. About a dozen or more witnesses were brought down from Rooster Rock, which will cost the county $100 or more.

J. Glenn, juror, excused for the term.

J. H. Fisk vs. D. V. B. Henarie; mandate of supreme court dismissing appeal.

D. L. Wallace vs. Charles Henry; judgment on the pleadings against plaintiff for $111 50.

STATE CIRCUIT NO. 2.

L. D. Brown vs. George P. Lent; referred to A. F. Sears to take testimony and report findings of fact, and conclusions of law.

POLICE COURT.

The session of the police court yesterday was not brilliant for a Monday. There were simply three drunks, John Perry, who got two days, Dan Lynch, ten days, and Sam Bernheim, five days. Sam, when asked how long it was since he had shown up, replied, two or three months. The court smiled, being cognizant of the fact that it was only a week. Sam tumbled to the smile, although he has been several years trying to tumble to many of them.

DAUNTLESS DARING.

A Slight Circumstance which Led to a Great Discovery.

[Compiled from Hubert Howe Bancroft's History of the Northwest Coast.]

Into A habasca lake the Peace river flows from the far west, and near its mouth another stream starts from the lake on its northwest course. Here the great Northwest Company established its fur-trading fort, and these two, unexplored streams constantly prompted questionings in the minds of the intelligent traders. Where was the source of the Peace river, and where emptied the stream that flowed away to the north? 'Twas this silent influence that caused the first exploration of our continent to the Pacific north of California.

Alexander McKenzie was stationed at this post and his vigorous mind and enterprising spirit prompted him to those explorations which solved these riddles and led to those discoveries which made him famous. But he entered upon the hazardous enterprise without precipitation, and first prepared himself for the role that he had set for himself to play. Accordingly he went to London and spent some time there in studying astronomy and navigation, that he might properly record his observations wherever he should go.

At length, at the beginning of summer, he started from the fort in a frail birch-bark canoe, with a crew of four Canadians, of whom two had their wives, and accompanied by a German. An Indian chief, with his family and followers went also in two smaller canoes to act as hunters and interpreters. Trapping beaver, shooting wild-fowl and reindeer and catching fish as they went, they paddled down Slave river until they reached Slave lake, and then entered the stream that takes its name from this explorer. As he easily passed down Mackenzie river he expected at every moment to find it bend to the west and carry him to the Pacific ocean. The natives indulged in a variety of tales more or less absurd concerning lakes and rivers toward the setting sun. He was not a little surprised, therefore, to find himself, when he reached the river's mouth, in the icy regions of the farthest north and under the starless summer sky and never setting sun of the Arctic ocean, instead of on the shores of the more genial Pacific. After spending a little time paddling among the icebergs and chasing whales, he returned south and reached the fort again after an absence of 102 days, regarding his expedition as somewhat of a failure instead of the valuable success that it really was.

Three years after his northern trip he again made preparations to set out in search of a route to the Pacific, and this time he decided to ascend the current that flowed near his door. Leaving the fort in the fall, he pushed on to the extreme westward post of the fur company, at the base of the Rocky mountains, so that by wintering there he would be ready for a good start next spring. As the winter deepened the cold became intense. Mackenzie was at length housed in a comfortable log cabin, and a block of five more was soon completed for his men. Many among the natives who were sick or maimed, and some among his own men, came to him for medical treatment, and, although he was not a surgeon, he did not decline the responsibility, but gathered such remedies as he happened to be familiar with and applied them.

The river was no sooner free from ice than he wrote up his accounts, dispatched six fur-laden canoes back to his starting point, and prepared to embark at once on his journey of discovery. Early in May he pushed off and started into the westward wilderness, which never before had seen a white man's face. Before him spread primeval nature, unmarked by the hand of civilization. Terraces arose on the west, with bold, precipitous edges, yet level on top; while to the eastward rolled away high hills, clothed in spruce and birch, and the stream was fringed with alder and willow. Vast herds of elk fed quietly upon the uplands, and buffalo in countless numbers with their frisking young roamed upon the plains. The savage grizzly was quietly passed at a respectful distance.

Navigation at first was easy, and though the current was swift, strong arms sent the quivering canoe rapidly up the stream. Poles were used in driving it along more freely than paddles. As they ascended cascades became frequent, driving the travelers into the woods to carry baggage and canoe to quieter waters above. Sharp rocks cut into the sides of the boat, sunken trees pierced the bottom, and rapids opened the seams of the canoe, straining under its load. At length the streams became entirely impassable, and canoe and everything that could not be carried were left behind. Mackenzie shouldered a pack of ninety pounds and still pushed westward, undaunted by the disasters which made his men anxious to turn back. But at length the navigable waters of the Fraser were reached and the bold explorer finally reached the waters of the Pacific.

THE TANNER CREEK SEWER.

PORTLAND, May 16.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

I see that the Tanner creek sewer is to be let Tuesday next: that it is to leave Tanner creek at Tenth street, go north to I street, then east to Eighth street, then north to the Willamette river. It is probably too late to say anything, but it does seem to me that proper care has not been exercised in the locating of this important work. Much of the bed of this sewer lies in Couch's lake, where it is marshy and where it will be difficult to make the work stand without heavy embankment on the outside, as it will be largely above ground, besides much of it will be among sawdust and slabs; but the worst feature about it is, it will not meet fully the demands for which it is intended. It seems to me that the proper thing to do would be to leave the creek at North Eleventh, thence north to N and O, thence west to Thirteenth street, thence north and join the river at about V street. This would give solid ground for the sewer the entire distance, would take in all of the city to V street, and would pick up Johnson's creek and empty the whole of the sewage of this great district below all wharves. The distance would not be more than six or seven hundred feet greater, which would amount to nothing when compared to the vastly greater number of people served. By taxing all property west of it to the city limits and what is dependent on it on the east, the taxes would be very light. The people living to the north of M street and west of the sewer have a right to an outlet for their sewage, but they cannot reach the big sewer without going through this low, swampy ground, and much farther. The way it looks to me is, that the council has made a blunder thus far. Is it too late to change it and would it not be better.

O'BRIEN AT TORONTO.

The Warmest Reception he has Met in Canada.

HE SPEAKS IN THE OPEN AIR.

Eighteen Orangemen, Encouraged by the Police, Try to Storm the Platform—The Speaker Interrupted by Fights

TORONTO, May 17.—William O'Brien, editor of United Ireland, arrived this morning, amid a scene of enthusiasm and excitement unequaled since his entrance into Canada. Fully three thousand men crowded and struggled with each other to catch a glimpse of him. A few attempts at hooting and hissing were made as O'Brien entered his carriage, but were quickly drowned by the hearty, stirring cheer which went up as he stood up in his carriage and exclaimed: "Three cheers for our friends in England and the cause they are struggling for." A cavalcade of mounted police with drawn swords and a platoon of officers surrounded the carriage. The hotel was reached without a single hostile sign except an occasional hoot or hiss from an Orangeman.

At the hotel O'Brien was met by a committee, who offered him an address of welcome. In reply O'Brien made a short speech thanking the Canadians for their support. He alluded to Lansdowne's [illegible] and made an attack on the Toronto Irish. His [illegible] was received with cheers mingled with hoots and hisses.

The [illegible] hour [illegible] a few [illegible] assembly, and as the party [illegible] the crowd increased until the [illegible] greater. The spacious rotunda of the hotel was crowded to [illegible]. To reach his room was impossible, to register was impossible, so O'Brien was hoisted on the shoulders of strong men and carried to the broad staircase, and there, amid intense excitement, was presented with an address by D. F. Cahill, secretary of the local branch of the National League. During O'Brien's reply there were frequent attempts at interruption by a small part of the crowd, but as before, the overwhelming majority of the crowd were O'Brienites and their cheers sounded like a chorus.

ORANGEMEN [illegible]

With Mr. O'Brien's introduction began the most terrific groaning, hissing, cheering and [illegible] that the city had so far witnessed. [illegible] his hat with the utmost coolness. O'Brien surveyed the vast sea of faces before him. [illegible] in the uproar to speak as follows:

Men of Toronto: [God save the Queen.] Hurrah for Gladstone, and immense cheering.] That cheer of yours whirling around the world to-day [Cheers and hisses] and all the vocal talent of Lord Lansdowne's friends cannot drown it. We are used to this sort of thing in the British parliament. [Loud cheers and a voice: "Hurrah for O'Brien." Tremendous cheers and groans.]

Here an Orangeman drew forth a heavy stick and hit a man with it, knocking him down. Then there was a rush caused by the prancing of the horses of the mounted policemen, and the crowd scattered in all directions, many persons rushing for big heaps of bricks which were piled up in a neighborhood. They came again whether with bricks or not.

THE SPEAKER RESUMES.

Mr. O'Brien continued: "I am glad to see that though Lansdowne has nothing to say himself he has friends who are able to say something. [Cheers and groans.] We come to Canada to demand an answer to-day from either Lansdowne or his friends. Here are his friends—groans and hisses—two dozen of them, groans, cheers and cries of 'Brand O'Brien,' whom good policemen could knock out in a few minutes [cheers] if they only wanted to, and the only answer they can give for the high and mighty potentate who has sent them here is cackling like geese. [Loud laughter and cheers.] They attempt to shout down free form of speech here to-day. [Groans and cheers.] We generally succeed in putting down our enemies in the house of commons [cheers], and we will succeed in putting them down here to-day. [Tremendous applause.] I don't blame the poor deluded Orangemen who are making this fight to-day."

Here a man was knocked down by a blow of a stick, and a free fight followed among the Orangemen, who again set up a dismal howling.

A LAW AND ORDER PARTY.

"To-day we are a party of law and order, and we defy any party to deny it."

Several voices cried "Brand O'Brien." "The heart of Ireland is at your back," shouted another. "And the heart of Canada," shouted another. An Orangeman here got in front of the platform and began singing "The Boyne Water." His silk hat was crushed by those around him and he disappeared under the platform, bruised and bloody, where he lay during the remainder of the day.

"I have often," continued Mr. O'Brien, "met jackasses [laughter] whose sound would be more musical than that of the miserable and misguided wretches who came here to destroy that freedom of speech which they boast they love so much. [Derisive laughter.] If they have anything to say for Lansdowne let their best man come on this platform and I will guarantee him a hearing. But they are afraid [groans and hisses and cries of 'God save the queen'] because they are in the wrong and we are bold and defiant, and we are right, and truth and justice are on our side. [Loud and prolonged applause mingled with hisses and groaning.] This demonstration takes the last sod from under Lord Lansdowne's feet, for by it he confesses that he has no better answer to our arraignment than the blackguardism and vulgar ignorance of this wretched crew. [Cheers.] I am not at all sorry that the gentlemen of the Toronto corporation have broken their contract as Lord Lansdowne broke his, and have refused the hospitality of St. Andrew's hall. There is one hall, thank God, from which they cannot shut us out—this open vault of heaven which the architect of the universe has built—and we have a tale to tell which we may not be afraid or ashamed to tell in the free air of heaven and in the open light of day. One thing is now, I think, certain, and that is that Canadians demand an answer to the specific and terrible accusations we have made against him. An answer there must be, or Lord Lansdowne stands condemned. An answer different from the vague platitudes with which he fills his letter to Toronto. I think nobody realizes more keenly than Lord Lansdowne to-day that the frothy declarations of the authorities at Saturday's meeting are not an answer which will save him from the condemnation of liberty loving men.

THE VOICE OF PARLIAMENT.

Here the speaker said that Rev. D. R. Kane had been allowed in Toronto to denounce home rule, and added: "But I would like to point out that the declarations of Orangemen at Toronto did not prevail with the Canadian parliament. [Applause.] They were rejected and reversed by Canadian public opinion, and so I venture to think that the orators of Saturday will fail now, as Rev. Mr. Kane failed then. Time will tell that the upshot of Saturday's meeting was a vote of confidence in the tory coercion government of Lord Salisbury, that government whose cruel and abominable coercion bill has just been condemned by the Canadian parliament by a decisive and overwhelming majority. A vote of confidence in Lord Salisbury. Could we possibly desire more convincing proof of how completely are our opponents out of sympathy with the vast masses of the Canadian people? As to the epithets that Goldwin Smith [hisses] has been pleased to shower upon myself. Well, so far as my humble personality is concerned it is of small consequence in this matter. I am content to be judged by my own countrymen, who know and read every thought of my heart. Judged by the announcement from Northeast Cork in this morning's cablegrams [applause] they don't seem to share Mr. Goldwin Smith's opinion of me. I think we may safely leave the orators at Saturday's meeting to be crushed under the weight of their own adjectives and under the ridicule of their own organs. Upon another occasion I should be willing enough to enter into the defense of ourselves and our great movement, if indeed defense is needed at this time of the day, of the movement which has won the great heart and mind of Mr. Gladstone, and to which the energies of the whole liberal party in England are now pledged. [Loud applause.] But that is not the question. The question is, and Lord Lansdowne and his friends shall not be allowed to escape from it until they have answered it—if answer it they can—whether Lansdowne is carrying out a most cruel and inhuman system of evictions in Ireland rather than yield concessions which were suggested and recommended by arbitration authorized by his own agent, and until that issue is honestly and squarely met Lord Lansdowne and his friends are shrewd enough now at the last moment to perceive that his cause will be simply damned by displays of physical and intellectual rowdyism. [Loud applause.]

ORANGEMEN NOT TO BLAME.

The speaker said he did not blame the Orangemen for their foolish threats, but he did blame the London Times and Daily Telegraph for their incitements to violence. It [illegible] due to the Canadian spirit in favor of free speech that their bloody counsels had not been followed.

The speaker continued: There was one thing thoroughly Hibernian about Saturday's meeting, and that was that although the meeting was called to insist that nobody had any right to pronounce upon the fitness of any governor general sent from England, the very first resolution they themselves passed was a most sweeping expression of their own opinion of Lord Lansdowne's fitness, thus doing the very same thing themselves which they insisted nobody in Canada had a right to do. [Laughter.] And Lord Lansdowne has written them letters in the newspapers to-day thanking them and declaring them quite right. [Laughter and applause.] If the gentlemen in Queen's park endorsed the coercion policy of Lord Salisbury, they are welcome to their opinion. If they think that Lansdowne is a rack renter and has thereby additional fitness to be governor general, we are [illegible] to differ with them [loud applause] and to declare that a man who tramples upon resolutions of their Canadian parliament with respect to Ireland is no longer fit to govern a nation of generous and freedom loving men."

ANOTHER RIOT.

This seemed to anger the Orangemen, who knocked down one or two nationalists with blows from clubs. The nationalists, in return, used their fists very effectively. Police Inspector Archibald and Deputy Chief Stewart, who were in company with Gen. Grossell, smiled in a most good natured way and used no effort to drive off the rowdies who pressed with might and main to reach the front of the platform, but in vain. With the exception of a couple of charges by a single policeman no other check, no attempt was made to interfere with the rioters. The Orangemen set up two stump speakers to talk at the same time as O'Brien. They roared themselves hoarse amid frantic cheers and yells of their coterie.

THE IRISH NUISANCE.

Toronto papers speak about the Irish nuisance. God knows it pains us at heart to be obliged to worry you with the sorrows of our poor people and subject you to such a test of the sincerity of your sympathy with Ireland, but it is not [illegible] who introduced the Irish nuisance to Canada. [Loud and prolonged applause.] The [illegible] at the [illegible] there 6,000 Irish emigrants fell to the greed of Irish landlords [illegible] of the [illegible] in Canada to-day, and the [illegible] of Irish landlords [illegible] without [illegible] forth [illegible] proud that [illegible] [Loud cheers and waving of hats.]

Dennis Kilbride, an evicted tenant, also spoke [illegible] of both Lord Lansdowne and the Orangemen in the severest terms.

Mr. O'Brien was then driven from the park escorted by a strong force of police.

At the close of the meeting the following resolution was adopted amid the wildest cheering and great applause from groups of Orangemen:

That this meeting of citizens of Toronto warmly sympathize with the [illegible] of Wm. O'Brien, M. P., in Canada, and take this opportunity of entering [illegible] protest against the [illegible] cruel treatment of the tenants at Luggacurran by Lord Lansdowne.

DISGRACEFUL ROWDYISM.

The Toronto Police Tacitly Encourage the Rioters.

TORONTO, May 17.—Never in the worst days of the [illegible] was a scene of more disgraceful rowdyism exhibited than that shown this afternoon in Queen's park, when a crowd of Toronto Orangemen attempted to storm the platform and failing in that, to cut off all possibility of Mr. O'Brien being heard by keeping up a constant din of groans and hissing and cries of "God save the queen" and "Rule Britannia."

It was 4 o'clock when the crowd had about fully collected, and it then seemed a fair estimate to set the number present at [illegible]000, although people kept pouring in in such floods from all quarters after the meeting had begun that to say that there were [illegible],000 persons would not be an overestimate. Many of the banks were closed, and students in the university were let loose. Many of these with crowds of desperate looking roughs whose only glory in life seemed to be a row or a riot, were recognized in a compact band and excited a little suspicion because they said never a word until their time came.

The first demonstration came from a solitary man at the left side of the platform who stood on the stump of a tree and began groaning at the meeting and at those on the platform as though his life depended on the effort. Near him was a woman waving a green branch in her hand, and no sooner had she seen the obstreperous Orangeman than she ran the butt of the twig down his throat, which choked off the disturber amid a roar of applause. A rush was made for the woman, but she was among friends, and a surging wave of thousands drove back her would be assailants.

At this moment O'Brien arrived at the park in a carriage. One hundred and fifty policemen in charge of Lieut. Col. Grossell were scattered through the crowd or drawn up in files on the outskirts. Sergt. Seymour was in charge of a squad of mounted men, and when the disturbers bent on breaking up the meeting determinedly took their place and remained there from the beginning of both O'Brien's and Kilbride's speech the policemen quietly folded their arms and said not a word.

The disturbers did not number more than sixty persons, and many of them were armed with sticks. Two sycamore trees in front of the platform were taken possession of by a crowd of young roughs who hissed out into the speaker's face during the greater part of the time. After a few minutes among the nationalists caught hold of the trunks of the trees and shook the disturbers to the ground.

ENGLAND.

THE COERCION BILL IN THE COMMONS.

LONDON, May 17.—The debate on the coercion bill was resumed this evening in the commons.

Sir Wm. Vernon Harcourt moved an amendment exempting from secret inquiry all proceedings relating to public meetings or agrarian movements, including combinations for reduction of rent. The bill would then deal with actual crimes and would not be a measure creating an offense.

Dillon contended that unless the amendment was accepted the government would be able to imprison everybody who might be politically obnoxious. Landlords who had not received rents might swear out information of conspiracy, causing all sorts of persons to be brought up for bogus inquiry. If they refused to answer questions such persons might be imprisoned as long as the government chose. [Cries of "hear, hear."]

Gladstone said he regretted that the government failed to recognize the justice of granting the Irish tenant the same protection they afforded English workmen. As to boycotting, the government must explain what was meant by that term. Was intimidation meant, or only boycotting leading to exclusive dealing? [Hear, hear.] When Balfour said the government refused to yield to obstruction, the opposition's response was that they had a right to refuse to yield to tyranny. [Cheers.]

The amendment was finally negatived—2[illegible] to 180.

Parnell will try to appear in the commons to-morrow afternoon. He has been advised not to attend the evening sittings.

RACING AT YORK.

LONDON, May 17.—The spring meeting at York opened to-day. The Zetland stakes for two year olds, five furlongs and forty four yards, was won by Lord Durham's colt Brooklyn by nine lengths; C. Perkins's filly Belle Mahone second, Mrs. Falconer's filly Sister Agnes third. There were two lengths between second and third. Betting was five to two against Brooklyn, and even money against Belle Mahone.

The Great Northern handicap, mile and three quarters, was won by [illegible] Crest's five year old horse Romney by four lengths; [illegible] Stevenson's five year old [illegible] Nightcap second; Maj. [illegible] Stapleton's four year old filly Scotilla third. There were nine starters. Romney won by four lengths. Scotilla was a bad third. Betting stood five to four against Romney, nine to four against Nightcap and twelve to one against Scotilla.

A NOBLE MARRIAGE.

LONDON, May 17.—Viscount Cranborne, son of Lord Salisbury, was married to-day to Lady Cicely Alice Gore, daughter of the Earl of Arran. The Prince and Princess of Wales, the Prince and Princess Christian, the Duke and Duchess of Teck and a large number of aristocrats witnessed the ceremony.

A COLLISION AT SEA.

LONDON, May 17.—The British steamer Caldera, bound from Pondicherry for Marseilles, was sunk near Malta by a collision with the British steamer Goorkha, from London for Calcutta. The Goorkha was badly damaged. The crew of the Caldera was saved.

THE HOUSE OF LORDS.

LONDON, May 17.—The house of lords has passed the English land transfer bill through committee pro forma. The bill goes again to committee. The Irish land bill is still in committee.

A NEW COIN.

LONDON, May 17.—The announcement is made that a new coin of the denomination of a double florin will shortly be issued.

A VALUABLE RACER.

LONDON, May 17.—Mr. Barclay has refused Mr. Wright's offer of [illegible] for the race horse Bendigo.

CANADA.

SENATOR SHERMAN ON RECIPROCITY.

TORONTO, May 17.—The following extract from a letter to Erastus Wiman from Senator Sherman on full reciprocity between Canada and the United States appears in Canadian papers to-morrow:

No question of greater importance in foreign relations is now presented than this. As to the particular measure proposed by Butterworth or indeed the extent which reciprocity should go, and what articles should be admitted free of duty in the respective countries, I do not feel justified to express an opinion, for these must be a subject of negotiation and legislation between the two countries. It would be discreditable in the highest degree for two countries having so many interests in common and natural ties of friendship and amity to have any irritation or controversy in [illegible] their trade and intercourse with each other. Truly yours, JOHN SHERMAN

IRELAND.

A Great Scheme by Manning and Jordan.

GAMBLING IN SILVER BULLION.

Thirteen Thousand Men Idle—An Invitation to Gladstone—Ben Perley Poore Prostrated—Washington Notes, Etc.

A GREAT GAMBLING SCHEME.

Whereby [illegible] will be Sold [illegible] National [illegible] silver [illegible] circle and [illegible] Their [illegible] silver [illegible] deposited with the Western National bank or elsewhere. Issue certificates against the bullion so deposited and have these certificates traded in very much as grain certificates are in Chicago or stock certificates are here.

To accomplish that, however, it is necessary to secure the co-operation of the governors of the stock exchange and secure the listing of the proposed silver certificates on the exchange. If that can be done and the plan carried out, transactions in silver certificates will become as marked a feature of stock exchange business as trading in gold in the days of greenback depreciation.

A TALK WITH JORDAN.

Conrad N. Jordan, vice president of the bank, was asked to-day if such a scheme was on foot, and said:

"Such a scheme is on foot, but not with us exclusively. There are a number of men getting this idea into shape, but it will not be ready to be made public for several weeks yet. The Western National Bank will not speculate in silver. We will issue certificates for silver, or rather act as a registration organization, but we shall not do anything else, for we propose to do only a legitimate banking business. London now controls the silver market of the world. If this scheme goes through, as it surely will, that controlling power will be in this city. Instead of our being dependent upon London for the price of silver, London will have to depend on us."

Jordan continued: "Organization of the scheme has so far progressed that the form of the certificate is now being discussed. I have been called an enemy of silver. I am not, but the silver dollar can never be a dollar. It is all bosh. I would have no dollars. Silver is not used enough. Every silver dollar coined shows the abuse of silver. I should only have halves, quarters and dimes, each to weigh in proportion. If the government persists in the present ruinous policy, there is no telling where things will end."

EASTERN NEWS ITEMS.

THIRTEEN THOUSAND MEN IDLE.

CHICAGO, May 17.—The number of idle men in this city who have either struck or been locked out is rapidly increasing. It was variously estimated yesterday at from 10,000 to 20,000. The number probably does not exceed 13,000, but by the end of the present week it will be largely increased. Not more than 400 bricklayers are at work, and their occupation will be gone as soon as the stock of material on hand is exhausted. Employes in other trades are gradually forced to stop work because they are reaching a point in construction at which they cannot proceed until bricklayers run up walls. The outlook is not promising for either contractor or laborer, but both appear to take a cheerful view of the situation and seem to be determined not to yield the point.

AN INVITATION TO GLADSTONE.

LINCOLN, Neb., May 17.—The following message was sent to-day by President Fitzgerald, of the Irish National League of America, to Gladstone:

LINCOLN, Neb., May 17.

Rt. Hon. Wm. Gladstone, House of Commons, London: Learning from cable dispatches that there is a possibility of your visiting America during the coming autumn, I, as president of the Irish National League of America, tender to you the cordial hospitality of that body, which will be the warm hearted greeting of fifteen million Irish Americans, and such a greeting from the great freedom loving people of this land as has never before been accorded to any visitor to these shores.

JOHN FITZGERALD, President.

CORDWAINERS IDLE.

HAVERHILL, Mass., May 17.—Owing to a disagreement between the Knights of Labor and the Shoe Manufacturers' Association, forty shoe manufacturing establishments closed their doors this morning, throwing 5,000 men out of employment.

HAVERHILL, Mass., May 17.—Many association factories that are running to-day will not open to-morrow, swelling the number of lockouts to sixty-five shops and throwing out of employment 17,000 persons. The masters are at work and will probably continue, as their price list has not been cut down. The manufacturers hope to secure help sufficient to enable them to open the fire shops.

TROUBLE IN THE GRAPHIC OFFICE.

NEW YORK, May 17.—The Graphic appeared yesterday without illustrations and with only four pages. It says editorially: "The members of the lithographic department received their pay last Saturday as usual. This morning they made out of pure spite and maliciousness a demand for a week's pay in advance before they would prepare the lithographic stones for to-day's issue. This was not acceded to, and being unable at such short notice to obtain men to take their places, the incomplete appearance of the paper is sufficiently explained."

TO SUBSTITUTE PAPER FOR COIN.

NEW YORK, May 17.—A Washington correspondent of the Commercial Bulletin says: The treasury department has decided to make persistent and determined efforts to substitute paper currency circulation for the present coin circulation of the Pacific slope and secure a return of all coin to the treasury as a means of strengthening its reserve to save loss from abrasion, and furnish a proper and more convenient currency.

A TEXAN JUDGE RECOMMENDED.

AUSTIN, May 17.—Member of the Travis County bar Association and other friends of Chief Justice A. S. H. Willie to-day forwarded to President Cleveland a formal application or suggestion of Justice Willie's fitness for a place on the supreme bench of the United States made vacant by the death of Judge Woods. The governor, all the state officials and many citizens have written to the president on the subject.

THE CHICAGO STRIKE.

CHICAGO, May 17.—At a meeting of master masons to-night resistance to the Saturday pay day demand was dropped as the main issue. They then formulated a series of demands on the bricklayers' unions, among them abolishing walking delegates, no restriction of the number of apprentices and freedom to choose non union foremen.

WILL BE FLOATED.

NEW YORK, May 17.—The steamer Fulda will be floated this afternoon. She will sail Saturday.

NEW YORK, May 17.—Eight tugs have been pulling at the grounded steamer Fulda, but have not been able to move her an inch. Her cargo will probably have to be lightered.

SWAN BROS.' FAILURE.

CHEYENNE, May 17.—The suspension of the Swan Bros. yesterday has not occasioned any failures among other Wyoming stock men. The failure is not regarded here as being due to any alarming conditions of the cattle business, and it is generally thought that it will have little if any effect.

EFFECTS OF THE COKE STRIKE.

PITTSBURG, May 17.—The closing of the furnaces on account of the coke strike is producing alarm among rail and Bessemer mills west of the Allegheny mountains, and a great number will be compelled to seek relief in purchasing foreign pig iron.

DISCHARGED BY VANDERBILT AND DEPEW.

NEW YORK, May 17.—Wm. H. McIlhaney, general [illegible] of the New York Central Railway Company, was yesterday discharged from that company by Vanderbilt and Depew. McIlhaney was accused over a year ago of embezzling $[illegible],000.

WASHINGTON NEWS ITEMS.

BEN PERLEY POORE PROSTRATED.

WASHINGTON, May 17.—Maj. Ben Perley Poore was taken seriously ill this afternoon in his committee room at the capitol. The attack was the result of overwork and heat. The major was overcome suddenly by sickness of the stomach and quietly fainted away. Physicians were soon in attendance, and in a few minutes the patient was restored to consciousness. When his strength was partially regained he was removed to his rooms at the Ebbitt house, where he is resting quietly. It is hoped that a few days of perfect quiet will restore the major to his usual good health.

The condition of Maj. Poore is considered more serious to-night than early in the afternoon. His physicians had consultations at 6 o'clock and 9 P. M. and will hold another to-morrow. After the consultations a doctor said: "We regard his condition as serious, but slightly better than at 6 o'clock. The attack was primarily due to Bright's disease of the kidneys, from which he suffered several years. To-day the major exposed himself some time to the full glare of the sun. This, together with overwork, weakened him and brought on the illness."

RUNNING THE MACHINE [illegible]

WASHINGTON, May 17.—A Californian who had an interview with the president this morning told Mr. Cleveland that it was the first president who had undertaken to appoint men of his own selection to federal offices in the state. He said that from the days of Pierce and Buchanan down to the beginning of the present administration the California delegation in congress had named the men who were given appointments in this state. The president was interested in this bit of news, and said he intended to assume the responsibility of all appointments so far as it was possible, for the protection of the country, as well as upon the Pacific coast.

WILL ENFORCE THE PROCLAMATION.

WASHINGTON, May 17.—The president to-day approved an application from the secretary of the interior to the war department for the detail of a troop of cavalry to be stationed at Cheyenne, Wyoming, to aid the civil authorities in enforcing the proclamation of the president forbidding the fencing of the public domain and directing the removal of such unlawful fences. The request was made upon representation that parties in Wyoming had neglected and refused to comply with the terms of the president's proclamation.

SHERMAN SOLID IN OHIO.

WASHINGTON, May 17.—Ex-Congressman Amos Townsend, of Cleveland, to-day said that there is a truce between the Sherman and the Foster men in Ohio, and that the latter would support John Sherman for the presidential nomination. Mr. Townsend thinks there will be no division of sentiment in Ohio this time, that the friends of Mr. Blaine there will give a hearty allegiance to Sherman, and that the republican leaders will work together sincerely for the latter's nomination.

THE NEW TREASURER.

WASHINGTON, May 17.—Mr. Hyatt, the newly appointed treasurer, visited the treasury department this morning and was presented to all the officers of the treasurer's office by Assistant Treasurer Whelpley. He says he will not take charge of the office before next week, as it will require several days to perfect his official bond and to comply with certain other requirements.

PROFIT SHARING.

The Boston Herald, perhaps the most valuable newspaper property in New England, is committed to the experiment of profit sharing. The result of this experiment will be watched with interest. Under this plan, the customary salaries, wages, expenses and interest having been paid, the remainder is a surplus to be divided ratably between those who have produced it. The wages paid are assumed to be adjusted to the relative value of each person concerned. By adding together the entire amount of wages paid for the year, including interest, (the wages paid capital), the per cent. of profit is ascertained, and, by applying this percentage to the wages of each man, his share is arrived at.

This plan of the Boston Herald is not a new idea; it has been tested, in some cases, in Europe, and in favorable circumstances proved a success. It has been tried in certain iron foundries, piano works and house-building trades of France and Germany, and in both England and America a considerable number of collieries and woolen mills employ profit-sharing in some form. Godin, at Guise, France, employs about one thousand men in making stoves, and for the last fifteen years has adopted the plan of sharing profits with all his permanent workmen. He erected an apartment house for 100 families, which included in its grounds a co-operative store, a nursery, a gymnasium, a theater, school, playgrounds and park, and rented these flats at such a rate as to pay expenses and interest on capital. After paying salaries, wages and interest on capital at 5 per cent., 12 per cent. goes to Godin as director-general, 12 per cent. to his foremen that constitute the board of directors, a certain portion goes to educational and other community expenses, and the remainder, about 50 per cent., is divided upon the total of wages and interest fund, the three classes of workmen receiving in the proportion of 2, 1½ and 1. Fifteen years have yielded dividends on wages amounting to $650,000. Two per cent. of the profits is reserved as a premium fund for inventions and labor-saving improvements. Godin has secured the best appliances, the highest organization and the best men, and says he can make the lowest prices, because all his men are working partners and will rather keep at work than stop. The Messrs. Briggs, owners of an English colliery, employing several thousand men, had suffered by strikes and tried profit-sharing as a compromise. The experiment, they say, was successful, but was ended by the ignorance of their men, who were persuaded to join a great miners' strike and throw away a golden opportunity.

N. O. Nelson in the North American Review for April, tells the story of a successful profit-sharing experiment for the year 1886. Seven per cent. was allowed on the capital invested, and the remainder of the profits were divided pro rata upon the total amount of wages paid and capital employed. Each employe got his proportion according to the amount of wages paid him for the year. At the close of the year a dividend of 5 per cent. on wages was declared, which was drawn in cash or in certificates entitling the holder to the same rate of interest and dividend for the coming year which the capital might receive. As able and successful a man of business as Senator Stanford, of California, favors co-operation, which with graded wages and graded interests has met with considerable success in Europe; but co-operation as Mr. Nelson points out lacks capital and central or concentrated authority in management. Profit sharing in a business that is administered by one permanent head, he argues, gives better results than simple co-operation, which ignores the value of exceptional ability, industry, energy and tact. Mr. Nelson points out that profit sharing is autocratic government in business which, with an able, devoted head, gives better results than a representative government in business for which co-operation stands. But there is another side of this picture. Profit sharing may be made to work in special instances after a business is established and there are profits to share, but how many will put up the money and take upon themselves the long labor, amid endless discouragements, necessary to found a business and bring it to the profit stage? And who will pay the losses when losses are made and there are no profits to share? And how long is an established and profit making business likely to continue profitable amid this conflict of interests and virtual ownership? The scheme very probably, indeed pretty certainly, will be found about as empty and utopian as other schemes of socialism.

MORE HIGH LICENSE STATES.

In Pennsylvania an excellent high license bill has become a law, and in Michigan a similar bill has passed one branch of the legislature and almost certainly will pass the other.

The Pennsylvania law consists of nineteen sections, framed with careful minuteness, so as to leave no loopholes for evasion or fraud. The county courts are required to fix a time at which applicants for license to sell liquor shall be heard, and applications must be filed at least three weeks before the hearing. Lists of applicants' names must be published, and each applicant must pay $5 to form a fund to pay for publishing the lists. The applicant must be the only person interested in the business that is to be licensed, and must not be interested in the profit of any other licensed place in the county; two reputable freeholders must become his sureties in the sum of $2000 each that he will conform in all respects to the requirements of the law, and these sureties must not be engaged in the manufacture of liquors. And the court, upon a showing that the law has been violated, is required to revoke the license.

The license or tax in cities of 40,000 inhabitants and over is $500 per annum; in other cities $300, and in boroughs $150. Penalties for selling without license are severe, consisting of both fines and imprisonment. Druggists are prohibited from selling, unless upon the regular prescriptions of registered physicians.

The Michigan act is very similar. It levies a uniform tax of $500 upon saloons where all liquors are sold, and $200 on those which sell beer only. It fixes the bond which liquor dealers must file at $3000 to $6000, and requires that the tax shall be paid in advance. For manufacturing or selling at wholesale the tax is from $500 to $800. A separate bill applies the local option principle, under which any community can raise the tax to any limit it chooses or can prohibit all selling whatever.

Tax measures like these are found by experience to form the best method of dealing with the liquor business. They give more regulation and restriction than can be had by prohibition, and they yield a revenue; while prohibition, particularly in those places where the demand is most considerable and the traffic therefore most abounds, renders the business free alike of tax and of control.

Messrs. P. C. Schuyler, Wm. Kapus and Wm. M. Ladd, of the board of trade, and Mr. Alfred Holman, of THE OREGONIAN, will start to-day for the Cœur d'Alene mines. They go on a visit of inspection, and will examine every part of the district. Returning, they will pass over the proposed railroad route from the mines to Farmington. The purpose of the committee is to collect facts and figures for the information of the business community of Portland. Mr. Holman will set forth what he sees in a series of letters. This is the beginning of an earnest effort on the part of Portland to engross the business of the mines. Of course this can be done only by making it to the advantage of the district to deal here. Direct railroad connection is the first and great necessity to this end.

There is truth here: "Perhaps," says the Philadelphia Telegraph, "the nearest approximation to an attainment of the conditions at which Dr. McGlynn is aiming that the world has ever seen was and is among the pastoral nomads. But your McGlynns and Georges don't want that sort of living; they want all the benefits and delights of the highest civilization, while refusing to recognize the only conditions under which high civilization has ever yet been even an approximation to possibility."

ODD FELLOWS IN COUNCIL.

Thirty-Second Session of the Grand Lodge Yesterday.

A Very Prosperous Year Reported by the Grand Officers—Increase in Lodges and Membership—Election of Officers.

The thirty-second annual communication of the grand lodge of Oregon, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, began its sessions in East Portland yesterday at 10 A. M., in Stott's hall, corner of Fourth and J streets. The representation was complete from all parts of the state, and no more representative body of that order has ever come together in Oregon, being made up of men of ability and prominence. In conversation with representatives the fact that the order has had a year of great prosperity was elicited. The morning session was devoted to organization and appointment of committees. The following grand officers were present: Grand master, R. Alexander, Pendleton; deputy grand master, H. E. Dosch, Portland; grand warden, C. L. Palmer, Baker City; grand secretary, J. M. Bacon, Oregon City; grand treasurer, J. G. Wright, Salem; grand representatives, T. O. Barker, Salem, and A. N. Gambell, Portland; grand marshal, Timothy Ford, Roseburg; grand conductor, D. E. Buchanan, Portland; grand guardian, F. W. Hendley, Echo; grand herald, J. T. Stewart, East Portland; grand chaplain, W. G. Simpson, The Dalles.

[The list of delegates was published in last Sunday's OREGONIAN.]

Grand lodge was called to order by the grand master, and prayer was offered by the grand chaplain.

H. C. Badger was appointed assistant secretary.

COMMITTEES.

The following special committees were appointed:

ON CREDENTIALS—George Reed, J. W. Haines, A. E. Anderson, W. C. Kern, A. D. Helman.

ON FINANCE—John A. Guyer, J. C. Hyde, John A. Boyer, John Miller, E. G. Hursh.

ON CORRESPONDENCE—T. M. Gatch, Samuel Sired, J. W. Cherry, S. F. Chadwick, Thomas Kirk.

GRAND MASTER'S REPORT.

Grand Master Alexander, in his annual report, says:

The order was never in a more flourishing condition than at the present time. We have apparently tided over the hard times, and the country is entering upon a era of prosperity which is felt by our organization

More new lodges have been established this year, both subordinate and Rebekah, than in any one year since there was a grand lodge in the state of Oregon.

He reviews at length the progress the order has made since the last meeting of the grand lodge, and finds much encouragement in the progress made. The report is written in excellent spirit, and at the close, in reference to the orphan's home, he says:

I regret that I can not say to the grand lodge at this time that the home for Odd Fellows' orphans and for the aged and disabled brothers of our order is completed and ready for those who are in need of it.

The chairman and secretary of the board of trustees informs me that contributions to the home fund have been less than $300 during the past year, and of course they have not been able to complete the home building, and that no money has been expended except what has been absolutely required to preserve the home building and to keep the farm in a reasonable state of preservation and improvement.

I have observed as I journeyed by the home farm that it appears to be well kept and considerably improved. Would it not be well for the grand lodge at this session to spare sufficient time to visit and inspect the home, so that all may be satisfied as to its present condition.

Brethren of the grand lodge, you have this property in your possession, as trustees for the various lodges and individuals who have contributed to the fund. At present the property is practically of no value for the purpose intended, because of lack of funds to complete the home building. For the honor of the jurisdiction, will you not take hold of this enterprise and push it to a speedy completion?

Grand lodge adjourned to meet at 1:30 P. M.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The grand lodge met pursuant to adjournment at 1:30.

Brother Stephenson, of Aurora, Illinois, was presented, and T. O. Barker, E. E. Sharon and Phil Metschan appointed to introduce him.

The special committee to whom was referred reports of the grand master and grand secretary reported, recommending that parts of the two reports be submitted to separate committees. Report adopted.

Communications and petitions referred to committee on petitions.

Incorporation papers of Medford lodge were referred to committee on legislation.

Petition from Ochoco lodge, No. 46, referred to committee on petitions.

Resolution submitted by L. A. Stephens read and referred to legislative committee.

By-laws of lodge 44, submitted and referred to committee on laws of subordinates.

The trustees of the Odd Fellows' Orphans' home made their report, which, on motion of J. J. Walton, was submitted to the following committee: J. J. Walton, W. J. Shipley, J. M. Gatch, Phil Metschan and J. Helman.

Two o'clock being the time set for the annual election of officers, H. E. Dosch of Portland was placed in nomination for grand master, and there being no other nominee the secretary was authorized to cast the ballot for him, which was done. C. L. Palmer of Baker City was elected deputy grand master, O. D. Doane grand warden, J. M. Bacon grand secretary, J. G. Wright grand treasurer; trustees for the home, A. N. Gambell, J. G. Ames, G. W. Kern and J. J. Murphy; grand representative, W. Tweedale.

A communication was received from Multnomah Degree Lodge, inviting the grand lodge to attend that lodge in the evening. The invitation was accepted.

Moved and carried that the grand lodge visit the Orphans' Home at 1 P. M. this (Wednesday) afternoon.

Adjourned to 9 A. M. to-day.

THE TANNER CREEK SEWER.

AN OUTSIDER GETS THE CONTRACT—ALMOST A "DEAD HEAT" FOR "SECOND MONEY."

At 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon the committee on streets and public property opened the bids for the construction of the Tanner creek sewer, concerning which so much has been written. There were five bidders for the contract. The following are the names and the amount of each bid:

Thomas Mann	$44,811 00
George Langford	35,661 06
Lee Hoffman	35,565 25
Bays & Jeffery	35,264 46
R. M. Riner	33,463 80

Mr. R. M. Riner being the lowest responsible bidder, the committee recommend that the common council award him the contract. This evening the council will act on the matter and will no doubt adopt the recommendation of the committee.

Bids were also opened yesterday afternoon for the construction of a sewer on B street, from Fourteenth to Twenty-first. The following are the bidders:

James Frainey	$2,611 67
B. Gaken	3,898 72
John Gibson	2,389 43

In this matter the committee recommended that the contract be awarded John Gibson, he being the lowest responsible bidder.

Mr. Riner, the successful bidder for the Tanner creek sewer, was a dark horse in the field, and his bid was a surprise to most of the old and prominent contractors of the city. Mr. Riner has very recently arrived here from Minneapolis, where he has lived for some time past. During several years past he has very successfully carried out large contracts.

The huge, drastic, griping, sickening pills are fast being superseded by Dr. Pierce's "Purgative Pellets." Sold by druggists.

OVERLAND PASSENGERS.

Passed Heron to arrive over the Northern Pacific, B. Hayden and wife, Miss M P. Holbrook, A. Bartlett, John Annos, G. W. Bird, A P Howe, J. S. Grant, W Peters, Simon Levi, and 17 immigrants. Passed Huntington to arrive over the Short Line W. W. Eaton, P. Kermen, Anna Gerting, Rose Dobbs, J. D. Geoghegan, and 32 immigrants. Passed Medford to arrive over the O. & C. J A. Burns, F. A. Budge, L. D. Fenno, F. F. Powers, Arnold Pollack, E. B. Rambo.

BRIEF MENTION.

To escape the heat and consequent malaria, go to Sellwood.

License to wed was issued yesterday to Joseph T Jura and Jennie M. Howett.

Rev. W. G. Simpson, of The Dalles, will visit Western Wave lodge, I. O. G. T., to-night.

Harry Prindle is to be tried to-day on the second charge of embezzling funds from George C. La Roque.

The motion on appeal for a new trial in the case of R. D. Marple, convicted in Lafayette of the murder of Corker, will be argued next Tuesday.

The Nanaimo benefit, at which the Garrison Dramatic Club will produce the comedy "Caste," will take place to night at the Standard theater in Vancouver, and not at the garrison hall.

The board of trade committee appointed to examine the Coeur d'Alene mines, consisting of Phil met. Schuyler, chairman, Wm. M Ladd and Wm Beggs, will leave to-day and will probably be gone two weeks.

Those who were not called on by the committee still have a chance to contribute to the Nanaimo relief fund by buying tickets for the concert to-morrow night. As all expenses are donated, every dollar of receipts goes to the sufferers.

In the case of L. Nicolai vs. M. A. Hackett et al., Judge Stearns yesterday confirmed the sale by the sheriff of lots No. 3 and 4, block 35, Albina. The property was sold on the foreclosure of a mortgage, and was bid in by Harry A. Hackett for $1700.

A short time ago H. P. Wilson sued the Portland Macadamizing and Paving Company for damages in falling into an excavation where Meier & Frank's building now stands and the jury which tried the case awarded him $3500. The defendants subsequently moved for a new trial. Judge Shattuck will pass upon the motion to-day.

PERSONAL.

Hon. J. M. Steele, of Tacoma, is visiting H. B. Litt.

Capt. Geo. J. Ainsworth and family are passengers by the Columbia, due to-night.

Mr E. Goslinsky, of San Francisco, father of Mrs. Emanuel Meyer, will arrive with incoming steamer.

WHERE THEIR MERIT LIES

When anything stands a test of fifty years among discriminating people like the Americans it is pretty good evidence that there is merit somewhere. Such a test BRANDRETH'S PILLS have stood and thousands of unsolicited testimonials every year prove their merit. The Pills are purely vegetable and are the result of the highest medical and chemical skill. They have never been known to fail in their work, they have never caused any one the slightest inconvenience, no matter when taken and there is little doubt that they have really saved thousands of lives. The best evidence of their value lies in their increasing sale. BRANDRETH'S Pills have truly become a household necessity.

EASTERN PASSENGERS.

Parties intending going East soon should arrange to accompany Dr. Child, who leaves Portland June 1. Special accommodations and good company. For full particulars apply at Drug Store corner Second and Morrison streets, or to A. L. Maxwell, ticket agent.

For the best flannel or buckwheat cakes, hot waffles, German pancakes, with maple syrup, jelly or honey, pork and beans, muffins, biscuits, fresh oysters, go to the Freiman Coffee House, 30 Washington street. Open day and night.

Emigrant Passengers

Carried on first class trains by the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway. Ash street wharf for tickets.

AT THE CASCADE LOCKS.—Lieut. Burr, who is attached to Capt. Powell's office, has for nearly two weeks past been at the Cascades locks looking after the interests of the government there. He returned several days since but will probable go back soon. Work has practically been suspended at the locks, there being not more than a [illegible] men employed there now. High water has [illegible] the reason of this suspension of operation the most of the channel where masonry work is to be done being filled. Nothing further could be accomplished, and so the operating force was cut down to a mere shadow. As the freshet has not yet cleverly commenced, no work can be done on the main work before August, or later. Meantime the wheels have ceased to revolve, and so little effective work has been done that the high water will, in all probability, undo whatever may have been accomplished.

MUST KEEP THE PEACE.—Justice Bushwiler was industriously engaged yesterday in settling a family quarrel between the Eisleys, Otises and Allens, who reside near Springville on the St. Helens road. The children of the old folks and married daughters got to speaking disrespectfully of and fighting with one another and then the sons-in-law, etc., took a hand. The court bound Amanda Jane, Joseph and J. F Eisley and Wm Allen over to keep the peace toward Mrs Otis and her husband in the sum of $100 each. Amanda Jane Eisley was fined $10 for assault and battery on Mrs. Otis, and a charge against A. Allen of threatening to kill F. S. Otis was dismissed.

KNIGHTS TO VANCOUVER.—The excursion given yesterday to Vancouver by the Willamette lodge, Knights of Pythias, was a grand success in every particular. The S. G. Reed made two trips, one leaving at 1 o'clock and arriving at Vancouver in time for the excursionists to hear the opening services of the grand lodge of Washington, which were held in the park and were very impressive, delegates from all the lodges in the territory being present. The steamer made another trip, leaving Portland at 8 30 and carrying a large crowd. On the afternoon trip over 400 people went over, including many knights in uniform.

ARION CONCERT.—All who are to assist at the concert to be given to morrow will please meet for rehearsal this evening at 8 o'clock at New Market theater. Soloists of the "Bergmannsgruss" will please come at 7-30. A good many tickets have been sold and a large attendance is looked for. Those wishing reserved seats will bear in mind to be on hand at 8 o'clock this morning at Prentice's music store. A very fine programme has been arranged and the concert will no doubt be a treat to those who attend. The managers of the three street railway lines have kindly consented to keep cars in waiting until after the audience has been dismissed.

THE MANZANITA.—Dispatches published Monday morning stated that the U. S. lighthouse tender Manzanita was at Yaquina on the return from Coos bay. Doubtless the steamer sailed Monday for the mouth of the Columbia and was due at Astoria yesterday morning. To-day, if the tender has arrived at Astoria, she will proceed to Tillamook light station and land the assistant keeper and probably a quantity of oil and other supplies. The weather is favorable, and there will be no difficulty about making a landing. Thursday Inspector Sebree will probably reach this city.

THE NEW SNAG BOAT.—The plans for a new government snag boat which Maj W. A. Jones prepared and forwarded to Washington, have been approved by the war department, and now nothing is in the way of the work being commenced soon. Having received the authority, Maj. Jones will shortly advertise for bids. The new boat will be built by contract. The failure of the river and harbor bill to become a law had no effect on the intention of the government to construct the boat, and the money was appropriated two years ago for that purpose and has not been expended yet.

FOUND ADRIFT.—On Sunday Albert Johnson picked up at Scappoose a small boat, with square ends, which was filled with water. In the boat floated a lady's satchel, containing a letter from Ralph to Louise, which evidently was written as the outcome of a difference between the parties named. Aside from this was a comb, bottle of medicine, powder, pencil, etc. A book of travel was also found. Evidently the party left the articles in the boat, which went adrift. The boat and articles are at Mr. Johnson's.

TWO FIRE ALARMS.—Yesterday morning at 10 o'clock the roof of the frame building on First street, near Oak, occupied by Ferguson, the barber, caught fire from sparks from the chimney. It was put out with a few bucketfuls of water before the department arrived. At 11 o'clock an alarm of fire sounded which, however, was false. The strong wind and warm weather of the past few days should make property owners exercise great vigilance. This would be a first rate time to clean the moss off of shingle roofs.

THREATENED HIS WIFE.—Joseph DeMartini, a saloon keeper on First, between C and D, was arrested yesterday morning by officers Barry and Simmons on warrants charging him with threatening to kill and assault and battery on his wife. The parties do not live amicably together, and lately had a dispute about some furniture which DeMartini attempted to remove from the family domicile. Mrs DeMartini objected to this and the result was a row. The accused put up bail for his appearance for trial to-day in the police court.

INCORPORATION.—Articles of incorporation of the Portland Steam Transportation Company were filed in the office of the county clerk yesterday by L. H. Campbell, W. E. Mullhollan and John Burke. The objects of the corporation is to construct or purchase a boat or boats to be used in the waters of Oregon or Washington territory in carrying passengers or freight. Capital stock $2500, divided into 250 shares. The principal office is located in Portland.

CLOSED BY ATTACHMENT.—At 6 o'clock last night the store of Hartman & Co., dealers in furnishing and fancy goods, at Washington and Third streets, was closed by the sheriff by attachment. G Simon sues to recover $5,279 78 for goods sold and delivered, and G. Cohn & Co. $19,030 on notes, etc. Both are San Francisco firms. The store of Hartman & Co is in charge of a keeper.

RAILWAY OFFICERS COMING.—Mr. Thomas J Potter, the new vice president of the Union Pacific, has written Manager Prescott of the O R & N. that he expects to reach Portland about the 29th inst. Mr S R Calloway, general manager of the Union Pacific (reported resigned) will also be here the last of the month. He has engaged berths for himself and wife for Sitka by the Olympian, which sails May 30.

DECISIONS TO DAY.—Judge Shattuck will announce decisions to day in the following cases: H P. Wilson vs The Portland Macadamizing and Paving Company, motion for a new trial. McDowell, Pierce & Co vs. The Astoria Packing Co for change of venue, Irving vs Paynefet al., and Irving vs Sperry, demurrer to answer.

CHARITY BALL.—The ladies of Trinity Guild will give a ball at Masonic hall to night in aid of the Good Samaritan hospital. Tickets are $1. Refreshments will be served, and these will be extra. It is some time since this excellent institution has come before the public for a "benefit" and Masonic hall ought to be crowded to night.

A RARE TREAT.—Is promised by the ladies of Grace church to their many friends who will attend the tabernacle Wednesday, May 25, when will be presented "The Days of the Year," in brilliant costumes. At the conclusion of this exceedingly pretty and novel entertainment refreshments will be served. Admission 25 cents.

HOW TO BE HAPPY ON A HOT DAY.—A trip to Multnomah falls next Saturday, with the R. R. Thompson, on the Hall-street church excursion, is about the best prescription for an overheated system, now that our "dog days" are on us. Multnomah falls are just now a second Niagara. Try the experiment.

FISHING AT THE FALLS.—Yesterday was a fine day for salmon fishing on the island at the Oregon City falls. Thirteen fish weighing from two to seven pounds were caught with spoons, and the sport was immense. So long as the present bright weather continues, excellent sport can be looked for.

EXCURSION TO LATOURELLE FALLS.—The excursion to Latourelle falls, given by Taylor-street M. E. church and Sunday school, will take place Saturday. Steamer Lurline will leave foot of Morrison street at 8 A. M. Tickets, 50 cents and 25 cents.

KEEP COOL.—Alaska refrigerators, best and cheapest, at Frank Bros.' Implement Co., 68 Front street.

FREIGHT OVERCHARGES.

Complaints of Portland Merchants about Erroneous Billing.

What the Companies Here are Doing to Reimburse Consignees—The Chicago Lines Partly to Blame—Future Rates.

Quite a number of growls have come to THE OREGONIAN in the last few days from jobbers, about eastern freight being billed too high, and the trouble of securing rebates, to say nothing about being obliged to advance the overcharges and then wait for the amount to be refunded. This journal has made a thorough investigation of the matter, and finds that the trouble is directly occasioned by the confusion into which all railroads were thrown by the inter-state commerce law which went into effect April 4. It not only affected rates, but the manner of doing business, and when one considers that freight from New York must come over four separate lines and averages twenty days in transit, the wonder is that the disturbance is not much greater. In the end all irregularities and errors have to be corrected through the general offices of the O. R & N., the Union Pacific and the Northern Pacific in this city, and so far as THE OREGONIAN has been able to learn, all hands have been using reasonable diligence and industry in removing burdens from consignees.

Early in March it was announced that all shipments in transit on the 4th day of April would be "protected," that is to say, the cut rate would be charged on all goods shipped by April 4, under bills of lading dated not later than April 4. All Chicago lines, namely the lines between Chicago and the Missouri river, and Chicago and St. Paul, billed freight which reached them after April 4 at the new rates (which were much higher) although the original bills of lading showed the shipments were made prior to April 4. The Union and the Northern advanced these charges, as usual, and added them to their own.

A SAMPLE CASE.

Here are the figures of a bill presented at the Short Line office in this city for rebate. It is for a shipment of 3380 pounds of cutlery from Boston. was selected at random and fairly represents hundreds of cases which have been adjusted and are now in course of adjustment.

	East'n Lines.	C. & N. W.	U. P. & O. R. & N.	Total
As charged	$20 28	$23 66	$46 30	$99 24
Should be	20 28	7 78	46 30	74 26

Over charge........................$15 88

The greater sum was paid to the O. R. & N. agent, or to state it exactly, to the transfer company which advanced the freight charges to the agent. All the over charge is by the Chicago line. However, the Union Pacific protects its bills of lading, and as soon as the consignee presents the claim at the office here and it is audited in due form, the general agent, Mr. C. H. Philips, gives his draft on the company for the over charge, and the consignee is reimbursed.

Now, ordinarily, it takes from three to four months to recover such an over charge. The claim would have to take its course through the auditing department of the O. R. & N., who would forward the claim to the Chicago & Northwestern. Then it would go through the auditing department of that road, and if found just, the O. R. & N. would be authorized to draw against the Chicago & Northwestern for the sum named. Upon receipt of this authority, the O. R. & N. would refund the amount. If there were but one such claim for over charge now, the consignee could get his money in half an hour. But there are hundreds and he must wait from four to eight days, seldom if ever longer than ten days. The Short Line pays the money, and then takes the place of the consignee in the "circumlocution office." As may be imagined the total amount the company has advanced in the past month is not small.

TWO OVERCHARGES.

But the overcharges of the Chicago roads are not all. At Council Bluffs and Minnesota transfer, freight which had left initial points before April 5, was billed at new rates. In one case, there was an overcharge of $900 on one car load of merchandise. This was an extreme case, and the consignee was reimbursed with only an hour's delay. A large proportion of freight over the Northern which reached the Minnesota transfer after April 4, was billed at the high rate. That road refunds the overcharge through the general freight office here. First the claim must get the "O. K." of the O. R. & N. freight department; then of the Northern Pacific, and that ends the matter. Claims must take their turn, but shippers seldom have to wait longer than a week for the papers to get through both offices. Though claims come in thick every day, the clerical force of both companies keep up with the work, and the grist received daily at the hopper is not larger than the grist ground out. It is estimated that between $30,000 and $40,000 is now temporarily tied up by reason of over charges, but there is no way by which consignees can get their money back short of a week. The Northern Pacific also pays claims for over charges by the Chicago lines.

There seems to have been no reason for billing freight at the Minnesota transfer, according to the new tariff. This action is explained with the statement that the Chicago lines billed at the high rate and it was necessary to follow their lead. It may have been good railroading, but it was not common sense, for the companies received no more in the end, were put to a great deal of clerical labor, and discommoded all their customers.

FOUR SETS OF RATES IN FIVE WEEKS.

The settlement of claims for overcharges on shipments prior to April 4, is not going to put an end to the confusion, no, not by a long way. In the period between April 4 and May 9 four Pacific coast tariffs have been in effect, viz:

The "cut" old Transcontinental rates occasioned by the war of 1886 and never restored.

The "interstate" tariff which went into force April 5, and was very much higher than the Transcontinental Association rates.

The "emergency" tariff, which went into effect April 27, and nearly the same as the Transcontinental tariff.

And lastly, the "suspension of the-long-and short-haul" tariff, which went into effect May 9, and is as low as the "war" rates.

The chances are more than even that after the seventy five days of the suspension of section 4 have expired (July 6) there will be still another set of rates.

Merchandise will take the rate in force on the day it was shipped, the day the bill of lading was issued. Mr. S. G. Fulton, assistant general freight agent of the Northern Pacific, said yesterday to an OREGONIAN reporter that his company would bill at the "emergency" tariff all shipments which passed the Minnesota transfer after April 27, though the bills of lading were issued between the 4th and 27th. The following instance shows, in a small way, how these sudden changes affect values in Portland. A dealer here ordered twelve children's bicycles from Chicago. The retail price is $18 to $25, and the profit on each above manufacturer's cost from $1 to $6. They were shipped April 24, and the freight bill was $79 90, being $6 66 on each machine. The rate was $9 40 per hundred. If he had waited three days till April 27 the rate would have been $1; after May 9, $2 40 per hundred. He can not sell the bicycles for more than the list price, and instead of making about $3 on each machine, he is out and injured in the sum of $24, if he sells the whole lot at the regular retail price.

WILL BUILD IN IDAHO.

While in Denver recently says the Republican of that city, President Adams, of the Union Pacific company, indicated that he had decided to act favorably upon the request of capitalists of Idaho territory for the construction, jointly with them, of the Idaho Northern road. It will be run in connection with the Union Pacific, says Mr Adams and as a factor in the development of Idaho will be very powerful.

The appointment of Gardner M Love, a Union Pacific official, to the position of general manager of the new road was yesterday confirmed by Mr Adams. The new line will be first operated between Nampa and Boise City. Mr Adams explained that the Union Pacific in passing through the territory does not touch within several hundred miles of Boise City. Her connection, therefore, with the Union Pacific railroad is by stage. By the construction of the Idaho railroad, or that portion of it from Nampa to Boise City, this difficulty is overcome. The direction of the new line is toward the Bitter Root mountains, touching at Idaho City, and opening up the mineral fields in the Deadwood country. It was in reference to furnishing railroad supplies from Denver that Mr Adams made his visit to that city. Work on the new road will be begun immediately.

"THE GREAT ROCK ISLAND ROUTE"

Still in the lead—Regardless of misrepresentations being made by an unscrupulous agent of an interior competing line, it is a positive fact that "The Rock Island" lands Eastern passengers from Oregon and Washington territory in Chicago in advance of all other lines, and furnishes superior accommodations in every respect. The finest Pullman palace sleeping car palace dining cars in the world accompany all through trains. Emigrant passengers carried on fast express trains. For full information apply to any coupon agent or Charles Kennedy, general agent, 3 Washington street, Portland.

COMPARE THE TIME.

The Northern Pacific train from Portland arrives in St. Paul at 12 30 noon, fourth day. The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway takes its passengers immediately on arrival of N. P. train and lands them in Chicago next morning at 7 o'clock. Note—Passengers on same N. P. train, ticketed by the Rock Island road, do not arrive in Chicago until 2 o'clock next afternoon. Consult time cards of both roads and satisfy yourself. Time from Portland to Chicago, via Union Pacific railway, Omaha & Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway from Omaha to Chicago, same as via St Paul. No advantage can be had by dealing with outside parties, and passengers had better transact their business with regularly appointed ticket agents. All Eastern tickets are sold in Portland by A. L. Maxwell, Ash-street wharf.

PUBLIC SCHOOL TEACHERS SELECTED.

BUT NAMES WILL BE KEPT SECRET TILL THE END OF THE SCHOOL YEAR.

Notwithstanding the fact that the board of school directors held a protracted meeting Monday evening, the task of electing a corps of teachers and principals for the public schools of Portland was not more than half completed. The labor of selecting ninety persons for responsible educational positions proved to be somewhat herculean, as the board discovered. Yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock the work was resumed, an adjourned meeting being held at that hour. Another meeting was held last evening, when it was supposed the list would be completed. As these meetings have been held absolutely private (not even the school clerk of the district, Mr Daly, being admitted) the proceedings, so far as the press is concerned, must largely remain within the domain of speculation. For reasons which the members of the board deem entirely sufficient, it has been concluded not to furnish the list of principals and teachers elected to the public for the present. Requests made by a reporter of THE OREGONIAN to several of the members, to be permitted to copy the list when it was completed, have been mildly but firmly declined.

The election was held this year about a month earlier than ever before. Heretofore, the teachers were elected just about the close of the school year. One of the directors would be absent if the election was held at the close of the present school year. Mr. D. P. Thompson expects to leave for Europe early next week to be absent some months. Naturally he desired to have the election take place prior to his departure, as it was right he should have some voice in the matter. To-day, Mr. Wm M Ladd will start for a two weeks' visit to Cœur d'Alene. To accommodate these two departing members, the board finally determined to hold the election a month earlier. As a principal reason for declining to furnish the press with the list when perfected, it is urged that to give publicity to the names would produce a somewhat demoralizing effect. Changes among the teachers are almost inevitable, and it is considered that to make these facts public would lessen the efficiency of the general school system of the city during the interval between now and the close of the school. Naturally those who had not been re-elected would lose interest in their classes or wish to resign before the close of the year, and thus necessitate the temporary filling of vacancies. However, the board will probably have no small job on their hands to keep the knowledge of the result from the present corps. When a teacher propounds the question directly to a member of the board, "Mr Director, have I been elected?" he will probably have some difficulty in evading the conundrum and before the members get through with over seventy persons who are "on the list," they will probably conclude that, like a policeman, a director's lot is not a happy one. Mr. Thompson is to be envied, for by his departure he will escape running the gauntlet of a rigid cross examination at the hands of several scores of teachers who will be on the anxious seat in regard to their positions. Mr Ladd will also avoid, for a short time, a world of conundrums.

NOW IS THE TIME TO BUY!

$50 Down, Balance, $150, in Monthly Payments of $15 Each, without Interest.

This beautiful tract of land, consisting of 208 lots, is situated in the famous fruit growing district adjoining East Portland, one-half mile east of the city limits, on the extensively traveled Base Line road, also on the main line of the Mount Tabor & East Portland railway, and only five minutes' ride from the Morrison-street bridge. This land is all level, cleared and in a high state of cultivation, with fruits and berries, such as apples, plums, prunes, cherries, peaches, pears, etc., together with strawberries, blackberries, and, in fact, all the fruits and berries for which this favored section is noted.

Situated as it is, away from the malarial district, it is entirely free from all miasmatic influences, and is destined to become, with the rapidly increasing population of the two cities, what Berkeley and Alameda are to San Francisco—a place of beautiful homes.

Through the completion of the Morrison-street bridge

PARADISE SPRING FARM

Is made a delightful suburb to the city of Portland, and in less than six months passenger trains of the Mount Tabor & East Portland Railway Company will pass this property every half-hour, thus making it possible for the merchant, the mechanic and the laborer to do business in Portland and live in the most delightful of all its suburbs. To the observing man we deem it unnecessary to enlarge or even to dwell upon the possibilities of Portland and its suburbs as compared with those of any other city, believing, as we do, that it is without a parallel in the United States. Although the city of Portland has not yet attained the average lifetime of man, it ranks to-day in population as the forty-fifth city in the Union, is the actual terminus of three transcontinental lines, has more wealth within its boundaries and a greater area of territory at its command than any other city of America.

Portland's position as a trade and travel center is as thoroughly defined on the Pacific coast as that of New York on the Atlantic, and it is safe to say that within ten years it will have a population of over 100,000. Already its residence capacity is taxed, and right here the question arises, Where will these newcomers seek homes? Will it be in the stifled precincts of a four-story tenement house, such as is found in the densely populated cities? Will it be on the rugged hills surrounding the city, where land is already held at $8000 a block? Or will it be on the

BEAUTIFUL UNBROKEN PLAIN.

Extending eastward from the river, on which is situated Paradise Spring Farm? Land on either side of Paradise Spring Farm has sold as high as $1500 per acre, and the most inferior cannot be bought to-day for less than $1000, and that only in five and ten-acre tracts, and yet we propose in this matter to give subscribers a chance to secure a regular lot, fifty feet by one hundred feet, at the same rates as sold per acre, besides making them a present of a new, handsome, modern-designed, hard-finished house, all ready for occupancy. These lots, 208 in number, will be placed on the market at the reasonable price of $200 each, one-fourth of that sum to be paid at the time of subscription and the balance in monthly installments of $15 each, without interest on deferred payments. As a further inducement to populate this beautiful section, we have now in course of erection six handsome, modern-designed five and seven-room houses, which are to be given away free to the purchasers of lots. Under this arrangement six out of the 208 subscribers will secure a handsome house and lot, worth $1400 each, for the small sum of $200, while the balance will have lots that cannot be purchased anywhere in the same locality for less than $300 each, and then only in acre tracts—a fact that precludes the possibility of purchase at all by men of limited means. The award of the houses is to be made under the supervision of a committee of responsible and disinterested citizens, at some public hall to be agreed upon, in Portland, in June, 1887.

Parties at a distance can purchase under this plan of award as well as those in the city, it being specifically agreed on our part that everything is to be just as represented.

Remittances can be made to us by mail or express.

METHOD OF SALE.

These houses, six in number, together with the orchards and other improvements, are to remain on the lots where they are at present situated, and are included in the price paid for the lots ($200 each), to those who draw the fortunate numbers.

In order that all buyers may have an equal chance in the drawing the following plan of award will be adopted: The name of each subscriber will be placed on one slip of paper and a number of each lot, from 1 to 208, will be placed on another slip, the two slips will be placed in separate boxes, and under the supervision of responsible and disinterested citizens will be drawn simultaneously. The number drawn will designate the lot belonging to the subscriber whose name accompanies it. Under this plan the names as well as the numbers will be placed in the separate boxes promiscuously, thereby removing any possible advantage that one subscriber might have over another.

The plats on file in our office, as well as a visit to the premises, will show on which lots the houses are located; but no one can tell who will receive the winning numbers until they have been drawn blindfolded from the box.

Each and every subscriber will receive a warranty deed to his lot, without any extra charge whatever.

Remember that there are six elegant, modern-design dwellings to be given away with these lots. Price, $200 each; one-fourth down and the balance in installments of $15 a month, without interest.

On and after May 1 we will have an elegant four-horse conveyance on hand to convey prospective purchasers to and from the premises free of charge.

In order to accommodate those who cannot call during the day, our office will be open every evening (except Sunday) during the above sale, from 7 to 9.

A Young Woman Foully Murdered Near Roseburg.

THE SITUATION AT NANAIMO.

Two Indians Drowned—Double Fire at Silverton—Events at Seattle, Albany and Salem—San Francisco Notes.

WAS SHE MURDERED?

A Shocking Crime that has Excited the People of Douglass County.

ROSEBURG, May 17.—The town was thrown into great excitement this morning by the news that Mrs. Paul Bruckner, who lives with her parents eight miles south of Roseburg, had been murdered or committed suicide. The coroner, accompanied by many citizens, repaired to the scene and discovered a crowd of neighbors already there. The details of the affair are extremely horrible, and point to the conclusion that the woman was murdered. The family consists of Stephen Limbeck and wife, and grown son Paul and the murdered daughter, whose husband has been for several months absent in Eastern Oregon, and who was expected home shortly. The first the neighbors were apprised of the affair was this morning about 7 o'clock.

The story as told by the family is that about 11 o'clock last night, after all had retired, they missed their daughter. Going to the barn, about 300 yards from the house, they found pools of blood on the floor and walls. Following the trickling of the blood to the river, about half a mile distant, they discovered the body of the daughter in the water, near the edge. She was in her night clothes, and her throat was cut from ear to ear, and the arteries of her left arm were cut by deep gashes. None of the neighbors were aroused until this morning. A note, claiming to be from the dead woman, was shown by the family to-day, saying she was sick and tired of life, and not to grieve at her death.

The almost universal opinion is that a dreadful murder has been committed. The woman was about 21 years of age and has been married three years. The barn is some 300 yards from the house, and there is a great amount of blood in it, which efforts had been made with water, dirt and grass to remove. The gash in the throat is from ear to ear, and the cuts on the wrist would be sufficient to cause death by bleeding. The most damaging fact is that the stream of blood from the barn to the river is about a foot to the left of the trail, showing that the girl was carried to the river, and also the fact that the wounds are so desperate in their character that she would have been unable to walk the distance.

The coroner's jury has not yet completed the investigation. The theory is that the murder was on account of incest, and that the expected return of the husband would expose that horrible fact. They are Hungarians.

AT NANAIMO.

An Interesting Dispatch from the Manager of the Company.

NANAIMO, May 17.—Eight P. M. Tuesday.—No search parties have been at work to-day, the dangerous condition of the roof still rendering it unsafe for the explorers to venture into the mine near the diagonal slopes, where the remainder of the missing are entombed. We are still sending two large streams of salt water down No. 1 shaft, and thence through the main level to the bottom of No. 2 shaft, where the fire broke out. A powerful steam pump, placed on the beach at high water mark, is employed for this purpose. This water is afterwards all lifted by engines on the surface. There is no longer any appearance of fire around the pit bottom, steam only rising from the heaps of fallen rock and coal, indicating that they are still heated to a high temperature. We are also removing fallen rock at the seat of the fire.

Should any flame again break out here during the progress of this work, the danger that existed for several days subsequent to the explosion would not recur. The explosive gas now being drawn off from the mine is brought into contact with air forced down No. 1 shaft, and is then taken by a long circuit to a drift on the north side of the upcast of No. 2 shaft, through which it is carried to the surface. The whole course of the circuit is outside of the fire area.

The only danger now to be apprehended by search parties and by those removing crushed and burnt timbers and other debris arises from falls of rock from the roof, loosened at the time of the explosion. The caves, as falls of rock are termed, have been very heavy. In one or two places thousands of tons of rock have fallen in a mass, and large fragments will continue to fall for some days.

For the information of subscribers to the Nanaimo relief fund, I desire to state that up to this time the Vancouver Coal Company have claimed the privilege of ministering to the urgent needs of all those requiring assistance. All subscriptions, including checks, forwarded to me, expressly to relieve immediate wants, have been, without exception, paid into the bank of British Columbia, to the credit of the fund, not one cent of which has been withdrawn up to this time. From to-day the committee will assume the duty of relieving distress. SAMUEL M. ROBINS, Superintendent.

FROM ALBANY.

The Southern Pacific Advertising the Willamette Valley—Two Indians Drowned.

ALBANY, May 17.—E. McD. Johnston, of the San Francisco Call, and C. H. Tibbetts, both in the employ of the Southern Pacific were in this city to-day taking views and notes preparatory for descriptive newspaper articles and other publications, setting forth the scenery and general resources of this portion of the state. The Southern Pacific, they say, since securing the O. & C. road desire to attract attention to the Willamette valley and has photographers and writers busily engaged describing in glowing terms the scenery of that part of Oregon through which the road runs, with a view of advertising the country.

A NARROW ESCAPE.

A dispatch from Yaquina to-day says Charles Smith, Charles Lohman and James O'Neil, employes of the Oregon Pacific railroad at Yaquina, went out sailing yesterday in a small boat. When about 200 yards off the west side of the bay a squall arose and the boat dipped water and sank. About 400 pounds of ballast was in the boat, which caused the accident. All swam for a sand spit on the south side. Lohman was seized with cramp, but Smith saw him and pulled him out, after he had sunk three times. The accident caused much excitement. Boats started from Yaquina City and rescued the occupants of the wrecked boat.

TWO INDIANS DROWNED.

George Washington, a fisherman at Newport, went out fishing yesterday in company with two Indians, Washington in one boat and the Indians in another. It was rough outside and Washington came in, arriving inside the bar safe. Some time afterwards the boat the Indians were in drifted in on the tide, empty. The Indians were undoubtedly drowned.

POLITICAL.

Gov. Pennoyer came up on this evening's train from Salem. It is understood his visit is for the purpose of consulting leading democratic citizens concerning the appointment of a superintendent of the insane asylum, there being two prominent candidates for the position from Albany. These are Dr. G. W. Maston and Dr. J. L. Hill.

FROM SEATTLE.

Work on the New Railroads—A Lively Runaway.

SEATTLE, May 17.—The contractors have now forty-three miles of road under contract. Saturday night last they had over 400 men on their payroll, and inside of two weeks will have over 600 men at work. Their payroll this month will amount to over $50,000.

The ship Rhodalmia, loaded with steel rails from Moss Bay iron works, Workington, England, for the Seattle & Eastern railway, was spoken a few days ago off the Lower California coast, and will soon be due at Port Townsend. She will be followed later by the ships Persia, Joseph L. Phinney and Baron Blantyre, having altogether about 2000 tons of rails for this road. The construction company are enlarging and extending Scott's wharf, for the purpose of receiving rails and material as fast as they arrive. There is 600 tons now at Vancouver, waiting to be transferred to this point, and as soon as the wharf is completed they will be brought down by the Walla Walla. Locomotives and cars will arrive over the Canadian Pacific railway, and via the steamer Seattle. The first one will be here about the 10th of June.

J. Powers, a laborer on the Seattle & Eastern railway, had his head caught between two logs yesterday, crushing his jaw-bone and mashing his face and head in a terrible manner. He was brought to the Providence hospital, but died at 1 o'clock this morning.

The steamer George W. Elder arrived at 2:30 to-day. She brought sixty six passengers to Sound ports, distributed as follows: Victoria 33, Port Townsend 3, Seattle 23, Tacoma 7, and 400 tons of miscellaneous freight for this city.

The ship Harvester, now lying in harbor, has been sold to Mr. E. P. Lorentzer and a number of other gentlemen for $21,000.

Mrs. Ward was much better to-day. Dr. Miller says her recovery is now assured.

A meeting of the Catholic Library Association of Seattle was held in the basement of the Catholic church Sunday evening for the purpose of perfecting the organization of the association. The organization is a chartered stock company, with a capital stock of $25,000. It is proposed in a short time to erect a hall and library building, and build up a library which in its character and proportions will be a credit to Seattle.

RUNAWAYS.

To-day was a lively one for runaways. In the early part of the afternoon a horse got loose and ran down Washington street alongside the walk on the north side from Second to Commercial. It made a scattering of the crowd at the corner of the street, and came near making a wreck of a bootblacking establishment on the walk. A man was having his boots blacked when the alarm was given to clear the track, and the jump he made to get out of the way would have put to blush the famous leap of Charles O'Malley. It has not yet been decided whether he landed in the middle of the street or on the opposite side. The horse left the harness at the crossing and turned down Commercial street to Main, where he was stopped.

An hour later a wagon loaded with lumber was crossing Front st., when the coupling broke, letting the forward end of the load fall to the ground. The frightened team started up Columbia street at a 2:40 gait, with the front wheels dragging behind them, and turned down Second street to Cherry, where they collided with an electric light pole, smashing the running gear into smithereens. The team were captured further on, and were uninjured.

A LIVELY RUNAWAY.

A more serious runaway, and a fitting close to the day's excitement, occurred about 8 in the evening. The proprietor of the brewery, Ernest Romney, and wife were just starting for a ride, and in turning around cramped the buggy too short, tipping it over and throwing them both out, and hurting Mrs. Romney's arm slightly. The horse immediately started on a run down Mill street at a terrific pace, dragging the buggy bottom side-up after him. He came down the street at such speed that he could not make the turn at Commercial street, and shot across and struck in front of Finck's jewelry store, smashing the show-window, and kept on into the store. Mr. J. W. Stares, the Second street jeweler, was sitting in the store, talking with Finck, when the frightened animal came plunging through the window into the store. Mr. Stares made a grab at his bit, missed it, and ran his arm down the horse's mouth, which was wide open. Finally he got him by the nostril, and after a few minute's lively struggle, with the aid of a number of men, succeeded in getting the horse quieted down, and backing him out of the store. Mr. Finck had fully $2000 worth of fine watches, jewelry, opera glasses, etc., in the show window. Many of the watches were ruined and much of the jewelry was lost or broken. The buggy was hung up in strips on the electric light pole on Mill street, and the horse was badly cut up by the heavy glass. There were a great many people on the street at the time, and it was a miracle that no one was injured or killed.

FROM SALEM.

Double Fire at Silverton—Supreme Court—Etc.

SALEM, May 17.—Fire at Silverton at noon yesterday destroyed the residence of T. R. Blackerby. Much of the household furniture was saved and stored in a barn about fifty yards from the house. Last night the barn was discovered to be in flames, and burned to the ground with the entire contents. The origin of the first fire was a defective flue, and of the second smouldering fire contained in the furniture. Total loss, $1500.

SALEM NOTES.

Blecker & Elliott, swamp land agents, left to-day for The Dalles, where they will be occupied for the next three weeks in investigating swamp land contests.

Wheat in Salem has reached 93 cents per bushel net to farmers, and the market is on the rise. Local competition has caused the increase in price.

Bids for finishing the East Salem school house were opened to-day. The lowest bid is $4575, by Z. Graven. The directors had not thought the finishing of the structure would cost so much. The tax levy for that purpose amounts to only $3000. The contract will not be let just yet.

J. H. Mitchell, United States senator, came up from Portland on to-night's train, and is at the Chemeketa hotel.

The governor has appointed the following notaries public: E. A. Holden, Astoria; J. A. Applegate, Salem; O. S. Briggs, Cedar Mills; J. E. Magers, McMinnville; L. S. Wood, Weston; James A. Campbell, Portland; John I. Jouth, Burns; E. A. Downing, Salem; commissioners of deeds, James G. Swan, Port Townsend, W. T., and Geo. J. Thompson, Walla Walla.

AGAINST THE BARN BURNER.

In the supreme court to-day judgment of the lower court in the case of the state vs. Ella Roberts was affirmed. Opinion by Strahan, J. The case of John Hobson et al., resp., vs. Thomas Montelth et al., apps., on appeal from Clatsop, was argued and submitted.

CALIFORNIA.

A FATAL ACCIDENT.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 17.—David Regensberger, assistant district-attorney, of Judge Murphy's court, met with a fatal accident at the Rossmore house, at 364 Stockton street, this afternoon at 4 o'clock. He was at the door of the elevator shaft and fell to the bottom. Dr. Whitney was called, and announced that Regensberger had broken his neck and could not live more than a few minutes. Regensberger was a bright and popular young lawyer. He lately distinguished himself in the Goldenson murder trial.

In further explanation of how Assistant District Attorney Regensberger met his death, the following may be said: He was returning to his room for the purpose of obtaining his overcoat. He ascended to the second floor and approached the elevator, but the boy being absent, he found it locked. He then took out his knife, opened the door and entered the car. Upon reaching the fourth floor he flung the door open and sprang off the car while it was yet in motion. Mrs. Cotton, the landlady, appeared in the hall at this juncture and as Mr. Regensberger jumped she was horrified to see him stagger backward and disappear in the opening. Her shrieks alarmed the house and when Mrs. Whittaker, who lodges in the building, approached the elevator shaft a terrible spectacle met her gaze. Upon the floor in a shapeless mass his head literally crushed, lay all that was mortal of the unhappy man. Dr. Whitney, who was passing, was called, but when the mutilated form was stretched out upon a bed it was found life had fled. News of the accident became noised abroad and in a short time the room of deceased was filled with those who had known him during life. Samuel Regensberger, his brother, arrived a few moments later and a sight of the corpse rendered him almost frantic with grief. The body had been carefully laid upon a bed, waiting the arrival of Coroner Stanton. The face was a bloody mass, the lower jaw having been broken, the nose crushed, and a gaping hole in the forehead disclosed brain matter slowly oozing forth. Death was instantaneous as not the faintest sigh escaped his lips when ready hands drew him from the fatal shaft.

DINNER AT THE PALACE.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 17.—T. T. Darge of Oakland, who acted as best man at the Baker-Ainsworth wedding, gave a neat dinner to-night at the Palace, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Baker. Covers were laid for twenty persons. Among those who sat down to the table were, besides the newly-married pair: Miss Dixie Thompson, Miss Daisy Ainsworth and the Misses Savier, John Ainsworth, H. W. Haskins of New York, and S. J. Crocker of San Francisco. In the center of the table was a large bank of flowers, while vases filled with them stood here and there. At each lady's plate was a handsome handkerchief bag. The middle of each bag was encircled with a gold ring. At one end were hand-painted flowers; at the other end was the date of the dinner and the letter "H," being the initial of the name of the gentleman who gave the dinner. At each gentleman's plate was a celluloid napkin ring, with mottoes from celebrated authors painted thereon. Besides these souvenirs, each guest was presented with a pin—the gentlemen with a scarf-pin and the ladies with a breast-pin. Mr. and Mrs. Baker leave overland for Portland to-morrow afternoon.

ADVANCE IN MINING STOCKS.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 17.—Mining stocks to-day were excited, active and higher. The reason for this was that it was stated that control had been obtained of the fire which had been smouldering in one of the lower levels of the Consolidated California & Virginia mine for some years past. Con California & Virginia was the leading stock; it opened this morning at $20, touched $24 50, and closed at $23, an advance of $4 37 from yesterday's close. Best & Belcher showed an advance of $1 50; Ophir $1 75, and Sierra Nevada $1 25. Other stocks also shared in the advance. The market closed firm and heavy.

BRIDGET GALLAGHER IN TROUBLE.

It seems that the troubles of Bridget Gallagher, or Mrs. D. D. Lavin, will never end. She was again arrested yesterday morning on a charge of using vulgar language and disturbing the peace. Officers Leahy and Johnston's notice was called to the disturbance by several residents of the neighborhood, and upon Johnston's going to the house Bridget drew a knife on him. A deputy sheriff who was at the house, 114 O'Farrell street, endeavored to prevent the officers from arresting her. Bridget is out on bail at the present time, under bonds.

WHAT THEY WORE.

A local morning paper, in speaking of the costumes worn by a number of people present at the Bernhardt opening last night, says: Mrs. I. S. Baker, nee Ainsworth, appeared in a black beaded silk. Miss Savier of Portland was charmingly arrayed in airy white tulle. Miss Daisy Ainsworth, one of Oakland's beauties, was seen in the orchestra in a dainty toilet of white Pongee silk. A delicate shade of red silk elegantly embroidered, was the toilet worn by Miss Florence Savier of Portland, Oregon.

DIED ON THE SIDEWALK.

Otto Newman, a cigarmaker, entered a saloon here this afternoon and asked for a drink, which was refused. He had been on a spree for some days, and the barkeeper, to get rid of his importunities for a drink, ejected him from the saloon, whereupon Newman lay down upon the sidewalk, and soon after was found to be dead.

SEIZED BY THE GOVERNMENT.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 17.—The schooner Undaunted, which arrived from Kodiak, Alaska, on Saturday with a cargo of spruce poles, was yesterday seized by United States officers on a charge of illegally cutting timber in Alaska. This is the third seizure within a few months for violation of the timber laws relating to Alaska.

SEVERE WEATHER AT SEA.

The bark Mary Glover which arrived on Sunday from Puget Sound, reports having experienced very tough weather on the trip down. Several of her sails were carried away and one of her yards was split during a heavy southeast gale which lasted for nine days.

THE NANAIMO FUND.

Total receipts to the Nanaimo relief fund foot up to-night $10,810. Among the subscriptions to-day were $250 from the Pacific Coast Steamship Company, $100 from Goodall, Perkins & Co., and $50 from Eliza Smith, New York.

THE STRIKE AT NEWPORT.

The steamer Arago which has been lying up here since the strike commenced in the Newport coal mines, will sail again for Coos Bay on Thursday. She will take up forty coal miners who will go to work in the mines.

SHIPPING.

Arrived—Steamer San Pedro, Tacoma; steamer City of Chester, Victoria.

Cleared—Ship Glory of the Seas, Nanaimo.

Sailed—Steamer Columbia, Astoria.

PERSONAL.

H. E. Baker, a wool and grain dealer of Medford and Central Point, and who is soon to start a warehouse in Roseburg, is in the city on a business trip.

THE AMELIA AT HONOLULU.

The barkentine Amelia has arrived at Honolulu from Puget Sound, with lumber, and at last date she was loading sugar for San Francisco.

THE BEAR.

The revenue cutter Bear leaves the wharf to-day and goes into the stream. She will probably sail for the Arctic on Thursday.

THE A., T. & S. F. WILL BUILD.

LOS ANGELES, May 17.—The statement will be published to-morrow that the A., T. & S. F. will soon build a line along the coast from this city to San Francisco, notwithstanding the announcement that the Southern Pacific Company and the A., T. & S. F. had entered into a compact by which the latter company had agreed to build no road north of Mojave. It is stated that the new line will be sixty miles shorter than the Southern Pacific.

WASHINGTON TERRITORY.

ASSIGNMENT AT COLFAX.

COLFAX, May 17.—J. F. Kennedy, dealer in stationery and notions, made an assignment in favor of his creditors to-day.

THE RAILROADS.

Jay Gould Before the Investigating Commission.

TRANSCONTINENTAL AGREEMENT.

Railroad News and Rumor from San Francisco—Ten Millions Paid by the Southern Pacific to the O. & C.

GOULD ON THE STAND.

He Testifies before the Pacific Railroads Commission.

NEW YORK, May 17.—In the Pacific railway investigation to-day the well known broker, John Pondir, was on the stand. Pondir went over the old story of the Credit Mobilier, and took occasion to vindicate Oakes Ames, saying that he was an honorable man, and was killed by the infamous stories told about him. He tried to show the connection of Blaine with the Credit Mobilier. He said that when Scott was elected president of the Union Pacific Scott told witness that he had eighty-two bonds which belonged to Blaine, which the Union Pacific would have to pay.

Jay Gould was next placed on the stand, and told at length his story of his connection with the Union Pacific. He said his books containing the accounts of the transactions were at the service of the commission. When the pool agreement of 1878 was exhibited he recalled and acknowledged signing for over $3,000,000 in securities. His books would show what he paid for them. They were entered at $30. The only way out of the difficulty was to take a mass of securities in one man's hands and issue consolidated mortgage bonds as the preliminary step to placing the security on its feet.

HE GOT THIRTY.

He agreed to accept 30 for his part of the securities. A good many thought the price too low. Unstamped bonds had a better lien than stamped, and their value was fixed at 50. It was soon demonstrated that the pool agreement would not carry, and a consolidated mortgage was determined upon between April, 1877, and May, 1879. The object of the consolidated mortgage was to consolidate the heterogeneous mass of securities under one uniform security. The most of these bonds were held by Ames and himself. He thought 30 cents was a fair price for his two million dollars of stamped income bonds, and that was the price he took for all he had in the pool. At the time of the consolidation he owned 40,300 shares of Union Pacific, worth 93⅛, and 27,000 worth 98. The latter was an immensely valuable property, but had been badly managed. He presumed the reason he bought income bonds was because they were on the eastern end of the road, its valuable portion. He bought of Amsterdam people, and paid for two million dollars' worth of Denver Pacific bonds. He believed the price was 74, which was the price he sold them at to Mr. Sage.

AN OUTLET NECESSARY.

Roads east from Omaha forcing the Union Pacific to pro-rate, it was found necessary to get an outlet by the Hannibal & St. Joe and Wabash & Southern roads, so as to prevent this. That's what made these acquisitions desirable to the Union Pacific.

In addition to stock he held at the time of the consolidation he said he owned 6 per cent. consolidated bonds of the Kansas Pacific to the amount of $2,600,000, and Union Pacific collateral sixes in the sum of $1,600,000. On the first of January, 1879, he owned 170,000 shares of Union Pacific stock. A little more than a year later he was clear on the books of the Union Pacific railroad. There was a law in Massachusetts that allowed anybody having a claim against a road to attach the stock. He put it out of his name because a claim had been trumped up and his stock was to be attached for collateral. It was re-transfered to him after the consolidation.

HIS INTERESTS CHANGE.

Witness said that while Gen. Dodge and Solon Humphreys were engaged in ascertaining the proper basis for consolidation, witness purchased Missouri Pacific, in order to protect Kansas Pacific, and became averse to consolidation. He offered his check for $,000,000 if they would not ask him to consent to the consolidation. They kept witness in his office until he signed a paper agreeing to carry the consolidation through. He thought this paper was now in Boston. At the time he signed this paper it was desirable to put the stock, of which he held one million dollars' worth, bought at 10 cents. Witness told Holmes if he could get an order of court releasing it he would put it in at more than it was worth—$300,000. The trustees got nothing of this. The stock had not been released, for the bonds would have been foreclosed, and the stock could not have gone into the consolidation. What witness did in the matter was the best possible thing for the trustees, and he was willing to stand by his action.

In answer to Commissioner Anderson's searching questions regarding the handling of Denver Pacific stock trusts, Gould replied vigorously, gesticulating violently. He seemed greatly incensed at the imputation of a dishonorable deal between Sage and himself in reference to this trust.

THE TRANSCONTINENTAL LINES.

An Agreement Reached, Under which there is to be no Rate-Cutting.

CHICAGO, May 17.—Officials of the transcontinental roads held a meeting to-day, for the purpose of agreeing upon a tariff schedule. A unanimous vote has been recorded in favor of the contemplated transcontinental association, and now nothing remains but a uniform system of charges. This includes both freight and passenger rates, and absolutely abolishes future indiscriminate cutting of rates over Western roads. The agreement provides that one company cannot make a reduction unless the rest do likewise.

RAILROAD NEWS.

Travel on the Oregon & California—Reduced Rates—Etc.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 17.—Hand-bills are being distributed over the city to-day announcing the following reductions of through tickets to Portland: First-class, $22; emigrant (continuous trips), $15. Passenger traffic on the California & Oregon to Portland has increased to such an extent that it is necessary to run three coaches daily over the unfinished portion of the line.

The New York Central general passenger agent professes to believe that there is to be no Pullman train by any line from New York to San Francisco. It is evident that newspaper mention of the scheme has aroused a latent spirit of rivalry between the New York Central and the Pennsylvania railway, as the officials of the former line now "guarantee to send passengers through to and from the Pacific coast with as few changes of cars as occur on any other route." So telegraphed Henry Monett, general passenger agent of the New York Central, from New York to-day, and it must be true.

Richard Gray, general freight agent of the Southern Pacific Company, telegraphed to-day from Chicago that no definite action had been taken by the transcontinental railway representatives in session there, but there would no doubt be a general alteration of both east bound and west bound freight tariffs.

The Pacific Mail announces a reduction from the former steamship freight tariff to New York of from 25 to 40 per cent. on different articles. On wool it is 33⅓ per cent., the former rate being $1 50 per 100 pounds. This reduction is made necessary by the low rates recently made by the Canadian Pacific.

The Southern Pacific Company announces a reduction on the 20th instant of the excess baggage rate. Excess rates will hereafter be $10 a hundred pounds from California terminals to the Missouri river, and $9 to Colorado points. On all classes rates per pound will be 10 and 9 cents respectively.

RAILROAD NOTES.

THE REPORTED U. P. ALLIANCE.

MILWAUKEE, April 17.—Acting President Bond of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad arrived in the city yesterday. He was asked whether reports were true that close relations are to be formed between the Union Pacific and St. Paul companies, with a view of making a continuous line from coast to coast. He replied: "I don't know anything about it. I haven't been to Omaha, and haven't talked with the Union Pacific folks. Mr. Tucker was out there, but I don't know what for." It was at one time reported that the Union Pacific was about to form a similar alliance with the Burlington road, but that report is now dead.

A BOYCOTT TALKED OF.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 17.—It is said that the transcontinental roads will join a boycott against the American connections of the Canadian Pacific road, because they are carrying freight which comes to them by the Canadian Pacific at a lower pro rata than that carried by them for Pacific coast roads, although the tonnage offered by the latter is much larger than that of the Canadian Pacific. The roads used by the Canadian Pacific in entering the territory of the American overland lines are the St. Paul, Minneapolis & Manitoba, the St. Paul & Omaha, and the Kansas City & St. Joseph railroad.

THE SOUTHERN PACIFIC PAYS THE O. & C.

NEW YORK, May 17.—A settlement of the Oregon & California bondholders with the Southern Pacific has been concluded by a deposit with the Union Trust Company of $10,000,000 for the Oregon & California Company.

THE KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS.

How they were Received and Entertained at Vancouver.

VANCOUVER, W. T., May 17.—On arriving at Vancouver it was found that the whole city had turned out in holiday attire to welcome the Knights. At the landing the members were met by Gov. Semple, Mayor Smith, the Vancouver lodge, Fourteenth infantry band, and an immense concourse of citizens. Marching through Main street, which was handsomely decorated with arches, streamers and Pythian flags, the procession moved to the park, where brief and appropriate addresses of welcome were made by Gov. Semple, Mayor Smith, Grand Chancellor Nicholson, Past Grand Chancellor Parks, Past Chancellor Campbell and others, after which the entire party visited the garrison and witnessed a dress parade.

The grand lodge met this evening and adjourned at 9 o'clock for the purpose of attending the ball given in its honor. The weather was delightful, although sultry, and nothing occurred to mar the pleasures of the day.

FROM THE NORTH.

LATEST ALASKAN NEWS.

PORT TOWNSEND, May 27.—The schooner Leo, Lennan master, arrived to-day from Alaska, and gives the following:

Juneau City is rushing, thirty to forty new buildings being in course of erection.

Several large sales of mining property have been made in the neighborhood of Juneau.

The new collector, Delano, has taken charge, and has made many changes among the officers.

No news from the Yukon country. The miners had not got through when the Leo left.

At Berner's bay a rich quartz ledge has been discovered, and a quartz mill and town is being built up. People are going there in numbers, and it is thought that before the season closes the town will have a considerable population.

FRANCE.

THE ENTIRE CABINET RESIGNS.

PARIS, May 17.—The chamber—275 to 259—rejected the proposals of the government for increased taxation, and proceeded to discuss the order of the day. Goblet announced that the cabinet would resign. As soon as the announcement was made the members of the cabinet left the house. Afterward a resolution was proposed by the budget committee, affirming the necessity of adopting new plans for retrenchment. The resolution was adopted—312 to 143. Premier Goblet, in an interview with President Grevy, tendered the resignations of himself and colleagues.

PARIS, May 17.—The resignation of the cabinet has been accepted. It is expected that De Freycinet will be summoned to form a cabinet to-morrow.

FISHERMEN WHO WANT BAIT.

PARIS, May 17.—A deputation of fishermen from Norman and Breton ports called upon Foreign Minister Flourens yesterday and asked him to protest against the New Foundland fishery bill, stopping the sale of bait to the fishermen. Mr. Flourens promised to bring the matter before the chamber of deputies.

EUROPEAN POLITICS.

NECESSARY PRECAUTIONS.

BERLIN, May 17.—The Kreuz Zeitung and Berlin Post urge the necessity of Germany's mobilization of her army in the event of Gen. Boulanger's plan being adopted. The Post further recommends the withdrawal of all reserves and all horses fit for war purposes from Alsace-Lorraine, for fear the Alsatian troops may use what they have learned from Germany against Germany herself.

A GERMAN SPY ARRESTED.

PARIS, May 17.—A German named Hassler has been arrested at Dijon as a spy. He had served in the Prussian army and had in his possession lists of all Alsatians living in his neighborhood.

A. L. Maxwell and every other coupon agent in the Northwest sell through tickets to the East via the great Rock Island route. It is positively the best. Office: No. 3 Washington street, Portland.

COMMERCIAL.

TUESDAY, May 17.

Overland receipts include 3 cars farm 1 car spring wagons, 231 rls barbed wire, 500 bdls sheet iron, car implements, 5 cs 3 bbls maple sugar, 1 bbl candy, 2 bls leather, 25 trunks, 60 bdls double trees, 80 bdls neckyokes, 100 springs, 4 bls feathers, 8 cs cigars, 10 bbls lime water, 7 cs clothing, 1 cs hats, 29 pkgs dry goods, 82 cs boots and shoes.

Str State of California reached San Francisco yesterday at 11:30 P. M., having in addition to cargo already noted, 605 sacks wool.

In its review of the San Francisco merchandise market for last week the Commercial News says: The advance of ⅛c made in the rates for refined sugars during the week placed quotations on the basis of 5⅞c for cube, or an advance of ⅜c from the lowest price touched during the recent decline. Coffee has maintained the lead as the most active product dealt in by grocery houses. Imports since the first of the year have been upwards of 25,000 bags in excess of like period in 1886 and yet stocks on hand are smaller, owing to the active demand both for local consumption and shipment. At present stocks in first hands are very small, and jobbers are only moderately well supplied. Railroad freights from this port to St. Louis and Chicago have been fixed at $1 20@1 25 per 100 pounds, respectively, during the suspension of the "clause." Quotations for chemicals show considerable change this week, refined sulphur being reduced to 2⅞@3c for California; hyposulphite of soda, bi carb, caustic and soda ash are all from ⅛@¼c lower, chlorate of lime is also ¼c off. China nut oil is quoted at 48@53c per gallon, a somewhat wider range than recently quoted. Rice is more in buyers' favor except for No. 1 and extra No. 1 China, which are firmer. Tapioca and sago are firmer and now are quoted at 5⅛c. Nutmegs have advanced to 55@60c and pepper is ¼c lower. Allspice is weaker, being quoted at 5½@6c per pound. All the cheaper grades of Liverpool salt have been reduced to $12 50 per ton, ex-warehouse, and are offered ex-ship at 50c per ton below that figure. There is nothing new to report in canned fruits. The fruit crop is liable to be somewhat curtailed by frosts that have of late appeared in the valleys, but the injury from this cause is usually exaggerated, and there is reason to believe the reports this year are no exception to the rule.

PRODUCE RECEIPTS—Past twenty-four hours include 405 ctls wheat, 326 bbls flour, 161 ctls bran, 78 sks potatoes, 3220 lbs hides, 19 pkgs butter, 110 pkgs eggs.

WHEAT—Small lots of valley continue to arrive for San Francisco, while most of the Walla Walla coming stays here. For some time past the market has presented a tame appearance, transactions being of no moment here and light in the interior, where prices are probably some better.

FLOUR—Very good request locally, while considerable goes to San Francisco, the market there being a good one.

OATS—Dull at about 54@55c for good feed qualities. The tone of the market is steady, but advices are easy.

PROVISIONS—Generally steady as last quoted. The request is fair.

DRIED FRUITS—Receipts small, and the request steadily reduces the stock. Apples are being shipped, as also some prunes. Sun-cured apples wanted.

EGGS—Rather easy at 16c, supplies still being large.

CHICKENS—Apparently firmer, as supplies are not especially heavy. The supply, however, seems slow.

MARKETS BY TELEGRAPH.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

NEW YORK, May 17.—The stock market was strong and higher, with slight concessions at times throughout the greater part of the day. The market was rather heavy at the opening, but became strong immediately under the lead of the Grangers. Business was moderately active, but after the advance of the first hour, while the tone of the market still remained firm, changes in quotations were for insignificant fractions only, until the afternoon, when Jersey Central showed decided weakness, and the general market showed a drooping tendency, accompanied by an increase in business. There was no further change in the tenor of the market, but the close was steady.

Government bonds were dull but steady to firm.

MONEY, BONDS AND STOCKS.

NEW YORK, May 17.—Money on call easy at 4½@5; closed, offered 5. Prime mercantile paper 5@6. Sterling exchange, dull, steady and unchanged.

THE WEATHER.

WARM TEMPERATURE ALL OVER THE NORTHWEST—RIVERS AT A STANDSTILL.

Yesterday was the hottest day we have been called upon to experience this year. In the shade the mercury reached about 82 degrees at 3 o'clock. Though the skies were not cloudless, and more or less wind was astir during the day, yet the temperature was sufficiently elevated to make the perspiring populace seek instinctively the shady side of the streets and sigh for the effervescing arctic soda and the delicious ice cold lemonade. Among the heated anti-prohibitionists the consumption of cool beer and cold whisky punches was no doubt large. One of the most uncomfortable features of the present very warm weather is the dust, which is drifted hither and thither about on the capricious wind, and shows no respect to age or sex. Thus far but little effort has been made to keep the dust in subjection by the street sprinklers, which are popularly supposed to be used for that purpose. But this matter, so important to the health and comfort of all, will no doubt be attended to, as summer has come in earnest, and the "weeping heavens" will take no more street sprinkling contracts for the season.

As yet the few days of elevated temperature has produced no appreciable effect on the Snake, Columbia and Willamette rivers. These streams have been slowly declining for a week past. Yesterday the Snake at Riparia stood eight feet and ten inches; at Celilo the Columbia nine feet and ten inches; at Portland the river yesterday was twelve feet and two inches. For several days past the water at Oregon City has been subsiding, but yesterday the river was at a stand there. This sluggish inactivity on the part of the streams mentioned will be of very short duration, for a week of such temperature as prevailed yesterday will dissolve vast quantities of snow in the mountain ranges and will cause a turn of the tide.

Beyond the mountains yesterday clear weather prevailed everywhere. According to the reports the condition of the weather was as follows at 8:30 A. M.: Riparia, 62 degrees; Starbuck, 64; Pomeroy, 62; Dayton, 68; Walla Walla, 65; Wallula, 64; Umatilla, 69; Pendleton, 64; Kamela, 61; La Grande, 62; Union, 58; Baker City, 56; Huntington, 70; Willows, 64; Blalock's, 66; Grant's, 64; Celilo, 70; Dalles, 64; Hood River, 72; Bonneville, 72.

DR. JOHN BULL'S

SMITH'S TONIC SYRUP

FEVER and AGUE

Or CHILLS and FEVER,

AND ALL MALARIAL DISEASES.

The proprietor of this celebrated medicine justly claims for it a superiority over all remedies ever offered to the public for the SAFE, CERTAIN, SPEEDY and PERMANENT cure of Ague and Fever, or Chills and Fever, whether of short or long standing. He refers to the entire Western and Southern country to bear him testimony to the truth of the assertion that in no case whatever will it fail to cure if the directions are strictly followed and carried out. In a great many cases a single dose has been sufficient for a cure, and whole families have been cured by a single bottle, with a perfect restoration of the general health. It is, however, prudent, and in every case more certain to cure, if its use is continued in smaller doses for a week or two after the disease has been checked, more especially in difficult and long-standing cases. Usually this medicine will not require any aid to keep the bowels in good order. Should the patient, however, require a cathartic medicine, after having taken three or four doses of the Tonic, a single dose of KENT'S VEGETABLE FAMILY PILLS will be sufficient. Use no other.

BLACK WOLF

Or Black Leprosy, is a disease which is considered incurable, but it has yielded to the curative properties of Swift's Specific—now known all over the world as S. S. S. Mrs. Bailey, of West Somerville, Mass., near Boston, was attacked several years ago with this hideous black eruption, and was treated by the best medical talent, who could not check the disease. It was a species of and consequently incurable. It is impossible to describe her sufferings. Her body from the crown of her head to the soles of her feet was a mass of decay, masses of flesh rotting off and leaving great cavities. Her fingers festered and three or four nails dropped off at one time. Her limbs contracted by the fearful ulceration, and for several years she did not leave her bed. Her weight was reduced from 125 to 60 lbs. Perhaps some faint idea of her condition can be gleaned from the fact that three pounds of Cosmoline or ointment were used per week in dressing her sores. Finally the physicians acknowledged their defeat by this Black Wolf, and commended the sufferer to her all-wise Creator.

Her husband hearing wonderful reports of the use of Swift's Specific (S. S. S.), prevailed on her to try it as a last resort. She began its use under protest, but soon found that her system was being relieved of the poison, as the sores assumed a red and healthy color, as though the blood was becoming pure and active. Mrs. Bailey continued the S. S. S. until last February; every sore was healed; she discarded chair and crutches, and was for the first time in twelve years a well woman. Her husband, Mr. C. A. Bailey, is in business at 17½ Blackstone Street, Boston, and will take pleasure in giving the details of this wonderful cure. Send to us for Treatise on Blood and Skin Diseases, mailed free.
